References

Food Code 1997 contains over 60 cross-references to Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), U.S. Code (USC), and Federal Register (FR) citations. In preparing the Electronic Edition, every effort was made to include these as online references - just click where the reference is made in the Food Code and in the Annexes.

Some of these references are extremely large. The file sizes of these preclude including their full text with this Electronic Edition package without going to a large number of floppy disks. The term [Excerpt] appears in the header of these abridged versions. A hypertext link appears in the header to a World Wide Web Site where the full text is maintained. These web sites provide an easy method of downloading the desired full-text versions as needed.

CFR and FR can be searched and downloaded from:

http://www.access.gpo.gov/nara/cfr/index.html

USC can be searched and downloaded from:

http://law.house.gov/uscsrch.htm

These WWW sites should be regularly checked for changes and updates.

Some federal regulations citations were not available online at the time the Food Code, Electronic Edition, was completed.

In viewing the documents, it may be noted that the formatting on some of the tables is not precise. These documents are downloaded "as is" from the original source. No attempt was made to fix these alignment problems. The text copy-and-paste feature of the Acrobat Reader can assist users in resolving this problem where there is a need for precise tables in their own documents if they are prepared using this format.
