Subject: RE: logos for clinical trials?

Dear [purged],

I am not familiar with this practice and neither the regulations governing good clinical practice nor the guidances that provide advice on FDA's current thinking in the area of good clinical practice address the issue of using logos with trials.

I'm sorry I cannot be of more help here.

Sincerely,

Patricia M. Beers Block

Subject: logos for clinical trials?

I have been asked by a client to identify logos associated with clinical trials.
As I am unfamiliar with any clinical trial using a logo for identification purposes,

I wonder if you could point me in the right direction?

Have you seen logos being used with clinical trial data?
Is there a website(s) that I should be accessing?

Thank you in advance for your assistance...it is greatly appreciated!
