

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY-AFFIRMATIVE ACTION POLICY

At Facebook, we value diversity on an individual level. We're dedicated to creating an environment where people can share their own diverse backgrounds, experiences, perspectives and ideas.

We're an Equal Employment Opportunity and Affirmative Action employer, and every member of our management team fully supports our affirmative action programs and policy of nondiscrimination and equal opportunity. That means:

- We give equal employment opportunity in all personnel practices, including recruitment, selection, promotion, training, tuition assistance, compensation, benefits, transfer, layoff, termination, and social and recreational programs.
- We prohibit discrimination based upon race, creed, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy, childbirth or related medical conditions), national origin, immigration status, ancestry, age, marital status, protected veteran status, physical or mental disability, medical condition, genetic information, sexual orientation, gender identity, or any basis prohibited under federal, state or local law.
- We don't allow sexual, racial, religious, ethnic, or any other form of harassment against our employees, applicants or other business associates.
- We provide reasonable accommodation for qualified individuals with disabilities in accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and applicable state and local law.

We're committed to our affirmative action programs covering minorities, women, qualified individuals with disabilities, and protected veterans. These describe the specific affirmative action and equal employment opportunity responsibilities of managers, supervisors, and all employees. We also expect all employees to support our affirmative action efforts to assure that equal opportunity is available to all, to encourage diversity, and to demonstrate sensitivity to and respect for others.

Maxine Williams, Global Head of Diversity, is Facebook's equal employment opportunity officer ("EEO Officer"). She and her team design, coordinate the implementation of, and monitor our progress under our affirmative action programs. Maxine keeps our top management team up to date on these matters.

Finally, we don't tolerate statements or actions that create a discriminatory or harassing work environment. We don't allow any retaliation for making a complaint or assisting in any investigation of unlawful discrimination or harassment. If any employee believes that our policies prohibiting discrimination, harassment or retaliation have been violated, he or she should immediately bring the matter to the attention of our Human Resources Department at hr@fb.com so we can investigate and take appropriate action. Employees who violate our policies against discrimination, harassment or retaliation will be subject to appropriate disciplinary action, including termination.

Thanks for your support and commitment to diversity and inclusion at Facebook.

Lori Goler, VP, People