Dear RRC:

Here is the perfect opportunity for Texas to lead the nation in energy sustainability. Let's not just stupidly follow along with our heads down, grabbing for every last dollar to be wrung from oil and gas. Let's invest in solar and wind energy. We need clean, sustainable alternatives. We'll help ourselves in every possible way. We can do it the smart way, or we can do it the wrong way.

And at the risk of being completely disregarded as an environmentalist nut I have to ask: what good is all the oil and gas on earth, once we've destroyed this poor planet?
