§3.70: Amend T-4 pipeline permit procedures

§3.70: Amend T-4 pipeline permit procedures

As a landowner, I have seen the effects of a pipeline right of way going thru my property.

I understand that large pipelines crossing the state may need the T-4 rights, but any company or individual can claim to be a common carrier and it becomes the responsibility of the land owner to prove that they are not. it should be the other way.

rules should be established as to what a common carrier is, and in order to claim such, that they must document compliance with the regulations.
