§3.70: Amend T-4 pipeline permit procedures

§3.70: Amend T-4 pipeline permit procedures

Eminent domain is for government to use for public projects: common carriers and common carrier infrastructure.

Companies that are established to make money for their owners and investors, for-profit companies, are never common carriers and they provide facilities to generate revenue for themselves; do not provide for public benefit.

I would recommend that the Railroad Commission remember it is a government agency that is supposed to regulate hydrocarbon industries, not to cater to the whim of said industries.
