Subject: National Fire Management Leadership Course

To: Course Nominee's

Welcome, you have been selected to attend the 2008 National Fire Management Leadership (FML) Course. The course dates are April 28 – May 1. The course starts at 1300 on Monday the 28th and ends at 1600 Thursday the 1st. This packet gives you information concerning the course, the faculty, participants, and some lodging and dining information.

The course will be held at the NAFRI training facility located at 3265 E. Universal Way Tucson, AZ 85706. You can find several maps on the NAFRI website: <http://nafri.gov/pages/locationandlogistics.htm>. These maps will give you a reference point for the hotels, eating establishments in the area and to the Training Institute which is located near the Tucson International Airport. You will need to make your own hotel reservations.

All of the hotels offer some version of a continental breakfast. There are plenty of lunch options within walking distance of the facility. The dinner options at this time consist of three hotel restaurants and fast food options. The hotels will shuttle within a five mile radius with some advance notice.

NAFRI will be providing a van shuttle service to and from the hotels as needed for the course, once in the morning and again after class in the afternoon. Please advise Tim Peterson if you will be utilizing this service so he can plan our driver needs. In addition, most of the airport area hotels will provide a shuttle to NAFRI.

Please contact Tim Peterson, Course Coordinator, (520) 799-8757, email: tjpeterson@fs.fed.us, with any questions or concerns about the FML Course. If he is not available, please call JoAnne Ware, (520) 799-8751 or send email to jware@fs.fed.us.

Tucson Facts and Recreation

Tucson is located in the Sonoran Desert approximately 100 miles south of Phoenix and 60 miles north of the Mexico border. It is 2,389 feet above sea level. You can expect typical Sonoran Desert climate during your stay. Temperature highs and lows from November to March are usually in the seventies during the day and forties at night. Late spring and summer daytime temperatures can run into the one-hundreds, with fifty to seventy degrees at night. Tucson receives an average of 350 days of sunshine annually.

Arizona is located in the Mountain Standard Time Zone (MST), however, AZ does not adjust to Daylight Savings Time, and therefore, during the months of April through October, AZ time mirrors Pacific Daylight Time.

Tucson is an ideal area for recreational and cultural activities, if the length of your stay allows time for exploration. Tucson has the flavor of a metropolitan area without forgetting the cultural amenities of its pioneer past. The area abounds with art museums, theaters, restaurants, resorts, and shopping areas.

Tucson metropolitan area covers 500 square miles and the valley is surrounded by five mountain ranges:

- Santa Catalinas – rugged range north and northeast
- Rincon – rolling mountains to the east
- Santa Rita – flanking the distant south & southeast
- Tucson Mountains – shorter, jagged mountains to the west
- Tortolita – closing the ring on the northwest side.

Tucson is the home of the Saguaro National Park, Arizona-Sonora Desert Museum and Coronado National Forest. All these areas provide an excellent interpretation of desert life. The Desert Museum features living examples of typical plants and animals.

Did you know that a Saguaro cactus doesn't start to grow its traditional arms until it is seventy-plus years old? You can learn this and more at the Saguaro National Park operated by the National Park Service. The Coronado National Forest is a study in contrasts. A two-hour drive can take you from desert to alpine lands where Mt. Lemmon features skiing in winter (weather permitting). More than thirty campgrounds are located throughout the Forest. Sabino Canyon east of Tucson is a popular spot known for its cool waters.

Other points of interest include Mission San Xavier del Bac south of Tucson; the frontier town of Tombstone where the famous OK Corral gun battle took place; Nogales, Sonora, Mexico for south-of-the-border shopping and sightseeing; and Tucson's many fine shopping areas including the Foothills, Tucson, Park Place, and El Con Malls.

Make sure you bring clothing suited to the time of your visit. You may want to pack athletic clothes, as the wide-open space provides many jogging and hiking areas.
