U.S. Travel and Tourism Trends

U.S. Travel and Tourism Exports Reach Historic Heights in 2007

Total international travel receipts (exports) reached unprecedented levels in 2007; indeed, International visitors spent a record-breaking $122.3 billion on travel to, and tourism-related activities within, the United States—an increase of more than 13% over the previous record set in 2006. More so, international visitor spending has increased appreciably (52%) since the post-September 11th low set in 2003 ($80.3 billion).

Travel receipts—purchases of travel and tourism-related goods and services by international visitors traveling in the United States—totaled $96.7 billion for the year, an increase of 13% over 2006. These goods and services include food, lodging, recreation, gifts, entertainment, local transportation in the United States, and other items incidental to foreign travel.

Passenger fare receipts—fares received by U.S. carriers (and U.S. vessel operators) from international visitors—increased more than 16% over 2006 receipts to $25.6 billion for the year.

Although Americans spent more abroad than ever before ($104.7 billion), the U.S. travel and tourism industries were still able to enjoy a $17.6 billion trade surplus in 2007, an increase of 116% over 2006!

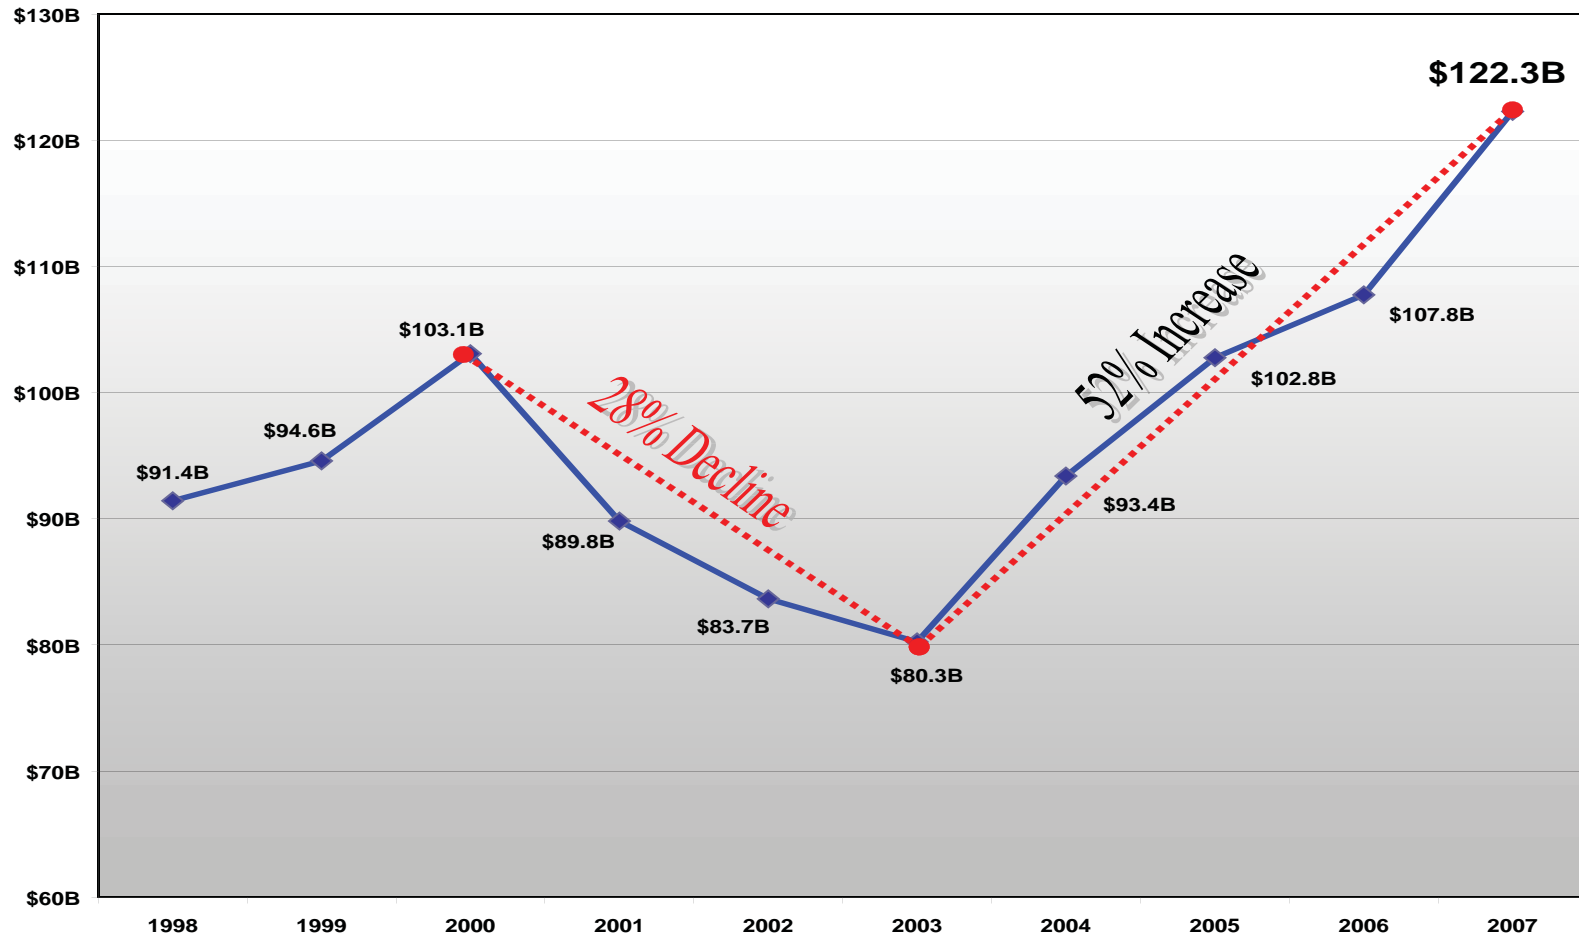

Travel and tourism is a critical component to the U.S. economy and the industry has made great strides in recovering from the terrorist attacks on September 11, 2001. I look forward to continue working with the private sector to ensure our travel and tourism industry is healthy and growing.

Secretary Carlos M. Gutierrez, September 6, 2006
