

Ken Marshall

Americas IFRS Leader

+1 212 773 2279

kenneth.marshall@ey.com

- More than 20 years experience in serving the banking and capital markets industries; currently is Ernst & Young's Americas IFRS markets leader.
- Lead partner on the UBS investment bank audit and spent three years in Zurich assisting the global coordinating partner on the audit of the consolidated accounts of UBS prepared in accordance with IFRS.
- Advisor on technical accounting issues encountered by UBS from an IFRS and US GAAP perspective; instrumental in the preparation of the reconciliation from IFRS to US GAAP for UBS' initial registration with the SEC, and responsible for the audit of annual reconciliation on an ongoing basis.
- Coordinates Ernst & Young's interpretation and application on IFRS related to financial instruments and institutions and chairs our Financial Instruments Working Group.
- Provides ongoing support to Ernst & Young's IFRS conversion activities in Central Europe.
- Member of the On-Call Consulting practice in New York prior to moving to Zurich, providing multifaceted accounting consultations to a number of banking clients, including advice on mergers and acquisitions, accounting for derivatives, securitization structures, and stock-based compensation.
- Developed global coordination skills on the audit of Morgan Stanley Group, Inc. as a key member of the corporate audit engagement team with overall responsibility for the audit of the consolidated accounts.