

MAJ Steven Currier, MD, USA

Major Steven Currier began his career in medicine in 1984 as a Combat Medic and subsequently transferred to Military Intelligence. He served during the first Gulf War with the 138th Aviation Company (AE). He graduated from the University of Minnesota in 1994 with a degree in Genetics and Cell Biology and the Uniformed Services University with a Degree in Medicine in 1998. He completed his internship and residency in Emergency Medicine at Darnall Army Community Hospital at Fort Hood, Texas in 2001. He spent three years as teaching staff at the combined Wilford Hall/Brooke Army Medical Center Emergency Medicine Residency. He was deployed during this time with the 115th Field Hospital in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom. He served as course director for the Military Contingency Medicine Course including Operation Bushmaster for fourth year Medical Students from 2001-2004. He is now the Chief of Emergency Medicine at Dwight D. Eisenhower Army Medical Center, Fort Gordon, GA. He holds an academic appointment as an Assistant Professor of Military and Emergency Medicine from the Uniformed Services University. He holds the following military awards: Defense Meritorious Service Medal, Meritorious Service Medal, Air Medal, Army Commendation Medal, Joint Service Achievement Medal, Army Achievement Medal (3OLC), Army Good Conduct Medal, National Defense Service Medal, Southwest Asia Service Medal (2BS), Global War on Terrorism Expeditionary Medal, Global War on Terror Service Medal, Army Service Ribbon, Kuwait Liberation Medal (Kingdom of Saudi Arabia), Kuwait Liberation Medal (Kuwait), Flight Surgeon Wings.