Washington, DC 20436

MEMORANDUM TO THE COMMITTEE ON WAYS AND MEANS OF THE UNITED STATES
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES ON PROPOSED TARIFF LEGISLATION ¹

[Date approved: August 30, 2000]²

Bill No.: H.R. 4327; 106th Congress.

Introduced by: Mr. PORTER

Similar and/or related³ bills: S. 2258; 106th Congress.

Summary of the bill.⁴

The bill would extend the existing suspension of the general rate of duty⁵ on-- heading 9902.32.92, covering $-Bromo- $-nitrostyrene.

Effective: The 15th day after the date of enactment.

Through: December 31, 2004.

Retroactive effect: None.

[The remainder of this memorandum is organized in five parts: (1) information about the bill's proponent(s) and the product which is the subject of this bill; (2) information about the bill's revenue effect; (3) contacts by Commission staff during preparation of this memorandum; (4) information about the domestic industry (if any); and (5) technical comments.]

¹³ The Commission may express an opinion concerning the HTS classification of a product to facilitate the Committee's consideration of the bill, but the Commission also notes that, by law, the U.S. Customs Service is the only agency authorized to issue a binding ruling on this question. The Commission believes that the U.S. Customs Service should be consulted prior to enactment of the bill.

APPENDIX A

TARIFF AND TRADE AGREEMENT TERMS

In the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States (HTS), chapters 1 through 97 cover all goods in trade and incorporate in the tariff nomenclature the internationally adopted Harmonized Commodity Description and Coding System through the 6-digit level of product description. Subordinate 8-digit product subdivisions, either enacted by Congress or proclaimed by the President, allow more narrowly applicable duty rates; 10-digit administrative statistical reporting numbers provide data of national interest. Chapters 98 and 99 contain special U.S. classifications and temporary rate provisions, respectively. The HTS replaced the Tariff Schedules of the United States (TSUS) effective January 1, 1989.

Duty rates in the general subcolumn of HTS column 1 are normal trade relations rates, many of which have been eliminated or are being reduced as concessions resulting from the Uruguay Round of Multilateral Trade Negotiations. Column 1-general duty rates apply to all countries except those listed in HTS general note 3(b) (Afghanistan, Cuba, Laos, North Korea, and Vietnam) plus Serbia and Montenegro, which are subject to the statutory rates set forth in column 2. Specified goods from designated general-rate countries may be eligible for reduced rates of duty or for duty-free entry under one or more preferential tariff programs. Such tariff treatment is set forth in the special subcolumn of HTS rate of duty column 1 or in the general notes. If eligibility for special tariff rates is not claimed or established, goods are dutiable at column 1-general rates. The HTS does not enumerate those countries as to which a total or partial embargo has been declared.

The Generalized System of Preferences (GSP) affords nonreciprocal tariff preferences to developing countries to aid their economic development and to diversify and expand their production and exports. The U.S. GSP, enacted in title V of the Trade Act of 1974 for 10 years and extended several times thereafter, applies to merchandise imported on or after January 1, 1976 and before the close of September 30, 2001. Indicated by the symbol "A", "A*", or "A+" in the special subcolumn, the GSP provides duty-free entry to eligible articles the product of and imported directly from designated beneficiary developing countries, as set forth in general note 4 to the HTS.

The Caribbean Basin Economic Recovery Act (CBERA) affords nonreciprocal tariff preferences to developing countries in the Caribbean Basin area to aid their economic development and to diversify and expand their production and exports. The CBERA, enacted in title II of Public Law 98-67, implemented by Presidential Proclamation 5133 of November 30, 1983, and amended by the Customs and Trade Act of 1990, applies to merchandise entered, or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption, on or after January 1, 1984. Indicated by the symbol "E" or "E*" in the special subcolumn, the CBERA provides duty-free entry to eligible articles, and reduced-duty treatment to certain other articles, which are the product of and imported directly from designated countries, as set forth in general note 7 to the HTS.

Free rates of duty in the special subcolumn followed by the symbol "IL" are applicable to products of Israel under the United States-Israel Free Trade Area Implementation Act of 1985 (IFTA), as provided in general note 8 to the HTS.

Preferential nonreciprocal duty-free or reduced-duty treatment in the special subcolumn followed by the symbol "J" or "J*" in parentheses is afforded to eligible articles the product of designated beneficiary countries under the Andean Trade Preference Act (ATPA), enacted as title II of Public Law 102-182 and implemented by Presidential Proclamation 6455 of July 2, 1992 (effective July 22, 1992), as set forth in general note 11 to the HTS.

Preferential free rates of duty in the special subcolumn followed by the symbol "CA" are applicable to eligible goods of Canada, and rates followed by the symbol "MX" are applicable to eligible goods of Mexico, under the North American Free Trade Agreement, as provided in general note 12 to the HTS and implemented effective January 1, 1994 by Presidential Proclamation 6641 of December 15, 1993. Goods must originate in the NAFTA region under rules set forth in general note 12(t) and meet other requirements of the note and applicable regulations.

Other special tariff treatment applies to particular products of insular possessions (general note 3(a)(iv)), products of the West Bank and Gaza Strip (general note 3(a)(v)), goods covered by the Automotive Products Trade Act (APTA) (general note 5) and the Agreement on Trade in Civil Aircraft (ATCA) (general note 6), articles imported from freely associated states (general note 10), pharmaceutical products (general note 13), and intermediate chemicals for dyes (general note 14).

The General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade 1994 (GATT 1994), pursuant to the Agreement Establishing the World Trade Organization, is based upon the earlier GATT 1947 (61 Stat. (pt. 5) A58; 8 UST (pt. 2) 1786) as the primary multilateral system of disciplines and principles governing international trade. Signatories' obligations under both the 1994 and 1947 agreements focus upon most-favored-nation treatment, the maintenance of scheduled concession rates of duty, and national treatment for imported products; the GATT also provides the legal framework for customs valuation standards, "escape clause" (emergency) actions, antidumping and countervailing duties, dispute settlement, and other measures. The results of the Uruguay Round of multilateral tariff negotiations are set forth by way of separate schedules of concessions for each participating contracting party, with the U.S. schedule designated as Schedule XX. Pursuant to the Agreement on Textiles and Clothing (ATC) of the GATT 1994, member countries are phasing out restrictions on imports under the prior "Arrangement Regarding International Trade in Textiles" (known as the Multifiber Arrangement (MFA)). Under the MFA, which was a departure from GATT 1947 provisions, importing and exporting countries negotiated bilateral agreements limiting textile and apparel shipments, and importing countries could take unilateral action in the absence or violation of an agreement. Quantitative limits had been established on imported textiles and apparel of cotton, other vegetable fibers, wool, man-made fibers or silk blends in an effort to prevent or limit market disruption in the importing countries. The ATC establishes notification and safeguard procedures, along with other rules concerning the customs treatment of textile and apparel shipments, and calls for the eventual complete integration of this sector into the GATT 1994 over a ten-year period, or by Jan. 1, 2005.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION
TO EXTEND THE TEMPORARY SUSPENSION OF DUTY ON IMPORTATIONS OF β -BROMO- β -NITROSTYRENE

This legislation would temporarily suspend, through the year 2004, the rate of duty applicable to imports of β -Bromo- β -nitrostyrene provided for in subheading 2904.90.47 of the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States. Currently, the applicable rate of duty is 1.5¢ per kilogram and 9.7 percent ad valorem; it is subject to reduction by 0.3-0.4¢ per kilogram and by 1.0-1.1 percentage points each year through 2004, at which point the rate is scheduled to reach and remain at 5.5 percent ad valorem. If the legislation is approved, the reduction in duty collection is estimated to be less than $300,000 per year.

Commercially, β -Bromo- β -nitrostyrene is available under the brand name GIV-GARD BNS® ("BNS"); it may be offered in two formulations (each of which would consist of 25 percent BNS as the active ingredient, with a solvent and other inerts comprising the remainder of the mixtures). ANGUS Chemical Company ("ANGUS"), Buffalo Grove, Illinois, is the exclusive owner, manufacturer and marketer of BNS.

BNS is a microbial growth inhibitor with bacteriostatic and fungistatic properties; it effectively controls the growth of bacteria and fungi in the production of high quality paper during which its biocidal activity and subsequent biodegradability are critical to the production process. The product is registered with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA Reg. No. 824-10) and is used, as an industrial preservative, against a variety of organisms involved in spoilage problems. There is no competing or substitute product for BNS that exhibits comparable preservative performance and is as commercially suitable for use in this particular application for which these BNS formulations are designed.

For sound commercial reasons – including both cost and quality concerns – ANGUS has decided to arrange for foreign sourcing of its BNS. This decision to rely upon supply from a producer in Europe was undertaken independent of any change in the duty that may come about. That is, regardless of the duty rate applicable to such imports, overriding commercial concerns dictate ANGUS's use of imported BNS in its preservatives product line. Nevertheless, since ANGUS will be and will remain the only importer of BNS, and since there is no suitable and competitive substitute domestic product to benefit from the imposition of duty on imported BNS, the proposed suspension of duty will have no adverse affect upon the domestic preservatives industry and, on the other hand, will lower ANGUS's duty costs, thus freeing resources that may be used for a number of purposes, including the funding of additional research or price reductions. In short, there are no practical or policy grounds militating against this legislation, but there are tangible economic benefits to be gained from it, which may accrue to the advantage of a variety of preservatives-consuming domestic industries.
