– THE PROPONENT AND THE IMPORTED PRODUCT –

The proponent firm/organization(s)
Name of firm	Location contacted (city/state)	Date contacted	Response (Y/N) ⁶
Global USA, Inc.	Washington, DC	May 8, 2000	Y
Kyocera America, Inc.	San Diego, CA	May 9, 2000	Y

Does the proponent plan any further processing or handling⁷ of the subject product after importation to its facilities in the United States:

Yes; Kyocera America has stated that if demand for its knives continues to be strong, it will look for ways to produce knives at one of its factories in the United States. Global USA, Inc. represents Kyocera and does not have any manufacturing or processing facilities.

If “Yes,” provide location of this facility if different from above (city/state): Vancouver, WA.

If “No,” provide location of proponent’s headquarters or other principal facility if different from above (city/state): n/a.

⁶ Non-confidential written responses received prior to approval of this report by the Commission, if any, will be included in appendix C.

⁷ The phrase “further processing or handling” can include repackaging, storage or warehousing for resale, etc.

The imported product
Description and uses	Country(s) of origin
The subject ceramic knives have blades made of zirconium oxide, an advanced ceramic material that is extremely hard, second only to diamond on the Mohs scale. The zirconium oxide raw material for ceramic blades comes in the form of white powder that is milled and mixed. The powder is put in molds in the shape of the knife, and the molds are then pressed. The resulting blanks are heated at approximately 1,000 degrees C. The blades are ground and sharpened and then inserted into handles and packaged. Ceramic knives can be sharpened only with a powered diamond sharpening wheel. Knives with zirconium blades are designed to hold their edge longer than competing steel knives, and are also intended to resist rusting or staining. The ceramic knife manufactured by Kyocera reportedly works best as a slicing knife and is not intended for cutting or chopping applications, due to the risk of chipping. Kyocera's ceramic knives are currently sold through gourmet and catalog houses, high-end retail establishments, and on-line stores.	Kyocera produces ceramic knives in Sendai, a small city in southwest Japan on the island of Kyushu. Kyocera also supplies a German manufacturer, Boker with blades for their ceramic knives, also sold in the United States. Kyocera and Boker are the only known suppliers of kitchenware ceramic knives to the United States.

– EFFECT ON CUSTOMS REVENUE –

[Note: This section is divided in two parts. The first table addresses the effect on customs revenue based on the duty rate for the HTS number set out in the bill. The second table addresses the effect on customs revenue based on the duty rate for the HTS number recommended by the Commission (if a different number has been recommended). Five-year estimates are given based on Congressional Budget Office “scoring” guidelines. If the indicated duty rate is subject to “staging” during the duty suspension period, the rate for each period is stated separately.]

Customs revenue loss	$291,200	$283,400	$276,900	$270,400	$270,400

HTS number recommended by the Commission to be added: 6912.00.48¹¹

Estimated value dutiable imports	n/a	n/a	n/a	n/a	n/a
Customs revenue loss	n/a	n/a	n/a	n/a	n/a

⁸ The HTS number is as set forth in the bill. See technical comments for suggested changes (if any).

⁹ See appendix B for column 1-special and column 2 duty rates.

¹⁰ AVE is ad valorem equivalent expressed as percent. Staged rates may be found at: <http://dataweb.usitc.gov>

¹¹ See technical comments and submission from Global USA Inc. The submission suggests that the firm is importing some of its products under this tariff category but does not provide information on present or expected import volumes. Because this tariff provision is a residual or “basket” category, official data for it would greatly overstate imports of the subject product. Total imports under HTS subheading 6912.00.48 exceeded $182 million in 1999.

– TECHNICAL COMMENTS –

[The Commission notes that references to HTS numbers in temporary duty suspensions (i.e., proposed amendments to subchapter II of chapter 99 of the HTS) should be limited to eight rather than ten digits. Ten-digit numbers are established by the Committee for Statistical Annotation of Tariff Schedules pursuant to 19 U.S.C. 1484(f) and are not generally referenced in statutory enactments.]

Recommended changes to the nomenclature in the bill:

With respect to the proposed nomenclature for the new tariff heading, the term “tableware or kitchenware” should be used to distinguish between the articles in question and the industrial ceramic knives that are currently marketed. In addition, the article description should be reworded to clarify that the proposed tariff provision covers knives with ceramic blades and not articles that may possibly be made with ceramic handles and non-ceramic blades. It is possible that adding a threshold zirconia content might ensure the limitation of the heading to the desired goods. Moreover, the proponent has indicated that no knife blades are separately imported, so the reference to blades should probably be deleted from the proposed article description. Last, because these goods can be made both porcelain or china or of ceramic material, it is suggested that the new heading refer appropriate provisions of both heading 6911 and heading 6912; they are tableware or kitchenware rather than household articles, to ensure that the desired goods are covered. Accordingly, it is suggested that the article description be modified to read, “Knives having ceramic blades, such blades containing over 90 percent zirconia by weight (provided for in subheading 6911.10.80 or 6912.00.48).”

Recommended changes to any C.A.S. numbers in the bill (if given):

None.

Recommended changes to any Color Index names in the bill (if given):

None.

*Basis for recommended changes to the HTS number used in the bill:*¹³

n/a

Other technical comments (if any):

None.

¹³ The Commission may express an opinion concerning the HTS classification of a product to facilitate the Committee’s consideration of the bill, but the Commission also notes that, by law, the U.S. Customs Service is the only agency authorized to issue a binding ruling on this question. The Commission believes that the U.S. Customs Service should be consulted prior to enactment of the bill.

APPENDIX A

TARIFF AND TRADE AGREEMENT TERMS

In the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States (HTS), chapters 1 through 97 cover all goods in trade and incorporate in the tariff nomenclature the internationally adopted Harmonized Commodity Description and Coding System through the 6-digit level of product description. Subordinate 8-digit product subdivisions, either enacted by Congress or proclaimed by the President, allow more narrowly applicable duty rates; 10-digit administrative statistical reporting numbers provide data of national interest. Chapters 98 and 99 contain special U.S. classifications and temporary rate provisions, respectively. The HTS replaced the Tariff Schedules of the United States (TSUS) effective January 1, 1989.

Duty rates in the general subcolumn of HTS column 1 are normal trade relations rates, many of which have been eliminated or are being reduced as concessions resulting from the Uruguay Round of Multilateral Trade Negotiations. Column 1-general duty rates apply to all countries except those listed in HTS general note 3(b) (Afghanistan, Cuba, Laos, North Korea, and Vietnam) plus Serbia and Montenegro, which are subject to the statutory rates set forth in column 2. Specified goods from designated general-rate countries may be eligible for reduced rates of duty or for duty-free entry under one or more preferential tariff programs. Such tariff treatment is set forth in the special subcolumn of HTS rate of duty column 1 or in the general notes. If eligibility for special tariff rates is not claimed or established, goods are dutiable at column 1-general rates. The HTS does not enumerate those countries as to which a total or partial embargo has been declared.

The Generalized System of Preferences (GSP) affords nonreciprocal tariff preferences to developing countries to aid their economic development and to diversify and expand their production and exports. The U.S. GSP, enacted in title V of the Trade Act of 1974 for 10 years and extended several times thereafter, applies to merchandise imported on or after January 1, 1976 and before the close of September 30, 2001. Indicated by the symbol "A", "A*", or "A+" in the special subcolumn, the GSP provides duty-free entry to eligible articles the product of and imported directly from designated beneficiary developing countries, as set forth in general note 4 to the HTS.

The Caribbean Basin Economic Recovery Act (CBERA) affords nonreciprocal tariff preferences to developing countries in the Caribbean Basin area to aid their economic development and to diversify and expand their production and exports. The CBERA, enacted in title II of Public Law 98-67, implemented by Presidential Proclamation 5133 of November 30, 1983, and amended by the Customs and Trade Act of 1990, applies to merchandise entered, or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption, on or after January 1, 1984. Indicated by the symbol "E" or "E*" in the special subcolumn, the CBERA provides duty-free entry to eligible articles, and reduced-duty treatment to certain other articles, which are the product of and imported directly from designated countries, as set forth in general note 7 to the HTS.

Free rates of duty in the special subcolumn followed by the symbol "IL" are applicable to products of Israel under the United States-Israel Free Trade Area Implementation Act of 1985 (IFTA), as provided in general note 8 to the HTS.

Preferential nonreciprocal duty-free or reduced-duty treatment in the special subcolumn followed by the symbol "J" or "J*" in parentheses is afforded to eligible articles the product of designated beneficiary countries under the Andean Trade Preference Act (ATPA), enacted as title II of Public Law 102-182 and implemented by Presidential Proclamation 6455 of July 2, 1992 (effective July 22, 1992), as set forth in general note 11 to the HTS.

Preferential free rates of duty in the special subcolumn followed by the symbol "CA" are applicable to eligible goods of Canada, and rates followed by the symbol "MX" are applicable to eligible goods of Mexico, under the North American Free Trade Agreement, as provided in general note 12 to the HTS and implemented effective January 1, 1994 by Presidential Proclamation 6641 of December 15, 1993. Goods must originate in the NAFTA region under rules set forth in general note 12(t) and meet other requirements of the note and applicable regulations.

Other special tariff treatment applies to particular products of insular possessions (general note 3(a)(iv)), products of the West Bank and Gaza Strip (general note 3(a)(v)), goods covered by the Automotive Products Trade Act (APTA) (general note 5) and the Agreement on Trade in Civil Aircraft (ATCA) (general note 6), articles imported from freely associated states (general note 10), pharmaceutical products (general note 13), and intermediate chemicals for dyes (general note 14).

The General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade 1994 (GATT 1994), pursuant to the Agreement Establishing the World Trade Organization, is based upon the earlier GATT 1947 (61 Stat. (pt. 5) A58; 8 UST (pt. 2) 1786) as the primary multilateral system of disciplines and principles governing international trade. Signatories' obligations under both the 1994 and 1947 agreements focus upon most-favored-nation treatment, the maintenance of scheduled concession rates of duty, and national treatment for imported products; the GATT also provides the legal framework for customs valuation standards, "escape clause" (emergency) actions, antidumping and countervailing duties, dispute settlement, and other measures. The results of the Uruguay Round of multilateral tariff negotiations are set forth by way of separate schedules of concessions for each participating contracting party, with the U.S. schedule designated as Schedule XX. Pursuant to the Agreement on Textiles and Clothing (ATC) of the GATT 1994, member countries are phasing out restrictions on imports under the prior "Arrangement Regarding International Trade in Textiles" (known as the Multifiber Arrangement (MFA)). Under the MFA, which was a departure from GATT 1947 provisions, importing and exporting countries negotiated bilateral agreements limiting textile and apparel shipments, and importing countries could take unilateral action in the absence or violation of an agreement. Quantitative limits had been established on imported textiles and apparel of cotton, other vegetable fibers, wool, man-made fibers or silk blends in an effort to prevent or limit market disruption in the importing countries. The ATC establishes notification and safeguard procedures, along with other rules concerning the customs treatment of textile and apparel shipments, and calls for the eventual complete integration of this sector into the GATT 1994 over a ten-year period, or by Jan. 1, 2005.
