

Model L, 1916

Front view of model L, the first Wright airplane to incorporate a single tractor propeller and the last model manufactured by the original Wright Company, on ground, Mineola, N.Y., 1916.

SMIN 42,681-C; USAF 341 A.S. Similar: SMIN
38,525-C

Wright Cycle Company, 1127 West Third Street, Dayton.

Four views of model L— front, side, three-quarter front, and rear views.

Aeronautics, v. 11, Aug. 16, 1916: 101; Aeroplane, v. 11, Aug. 30, 1916: 370; Flight, v. 8, Aug 10, 1916: 664; SMIN 31,838-A

Three-quarter rear view of Wright model L.

MCFWP 223; NOZWBC facing 49; SMIN 38,525

Three-quarter left front view of model L on ground.

Aerial Age W, v. 3, July 10, 1916: 508

Three-quarter right front view of model L on ground.

Aviation, v. 1, Aug. 1, 1916: 27; GLWB b. 240-241; SMIN 31,290-A. Similar: SMIN 31,290-H; USAF 340 A.S.

Right side view of model L on ground.

SMIN 38,525-D. Similar: SMIN 42,681-B

Right side view of model L on ground at Sheepshead Bay, N.Y.

Flying, v. 5, June, 1916: 199; SMIN 33,209-K; SMIN 42,681-B USAF 339 A.S.

Close-up right rear view of center section of model L.

Aerosphere, 1943: CXLV; SMIN 42,681; USAF 1361 A.S.

Front view of model L in flight.

Flying, v. 5, July 1916: 245; SMIN 33,209-E