
A BILL FOR AN ACT

RELATING TO EDUCATION.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII:

1 SECTION 1. The legislature finds that numerous studies
2 have recognized a national shortage of qualified nurses that 3 will reach a twenty per cent staffing shortfall by the year
4 2020. In 2006, Hawaii experienced a shortage of nine hundred 5 sixty registered nurses, which is estimated to grow to two 6 thousand two hundred twenty by 2016 and two thousand six hundred 7 seventy by 2020. A nursing shortage jeopardizes the quality of 8 health care provided in hospitals, nursing homes, hospices,
9 clinics, and other health care settings. Without enough 10 registered nurses, patient safety is at risk, with rural and 11 underserved communities being most affected.

12 The nursing shortage is exacerbated by the aging population
13 which is steadily increasing. Hawaii's population is aging 14 faster than the rest of the country. Between 2000 and 2020, the 15 number of people aged sixty and older will increase by almost 16 seventy-five per cent. Hawaii's registered nurse workforce is 17 also aging, with an increasing number of registered nurses soon
18 to retire. Estimates indicate that by 2015, thirty-one per cent

1 of Hawaii's current registered nurse workforce will retire. By 2 2020, sixty-one per cent of Hawaii's current workforce will 3 retire. The already significant shortage of registered nurses
4 will worsen.

5 The legislature finds that the key to promoting health in 6 Hawaii lies in efforts to increase the educational capacity of 7 the State's nursing programs, which are hampered by the number 8 of faculty and support positions--limiting the admission of 9 additional students--and by inadequate facilities. Increasing 10 faculty training and nursing graduates requires a minimum of two 11 to five years. Adding teaching staff would allow additional 12 students to be admitted and expand learning resource 13 opportunities to satisfy growing student demand. The 14 legislature finds that an ongoing and strategic public-sector
15 approach is necessary to sustain a robust, qualified nursing
16 workforce to meet Hawaii's health care needs into the future.

17 The legislature agrees with the University of Hawaii's 18 statewide nursing consortium commitment to maximize the State's 19 investment in nursing education, without unnecessary duplication 20 among the various campuses. The legislature recognizes that the 21 University of Hawaii plays a vital role in nursing workforce
22 development in Hawaii.
