

JOHN T. KOMEIJI

Since entering the practice of law in 1979, John T. Komeiji has practiced in the area of litigation of commercial cases, professional malpractice defense matters and personal injury litigation.

Mr. Komeiji graduated with distinction from the University of Hawaii in 1976, having earned his Bachelor of Arts in Education. In 1979 he received his Juris Doctor from the University of California, Hastings College of the Law.

Mr. Komeiji has developed a particular focus in the areas of telecommunications law, defense of commercial, professional malpractice and personal injury matters, and insurance coverage issues.

Mr. Komeiji is the Past President for the Hawaii State Bar Association. He has served on the Standing Committee for Lawyer Competence of the American Bar Association. He is also a member of the prestigious American Board of Trial Advocates-Hawaii Chapter. Mr. Komeiji is also a Bencher and member of the Executive Committee of the American Inn of Court, Aloha Inn. He has served as a delegate to the Judicial Conference for the United States District Court for the District of Hawaii, and is currently a member of the Local Rules Committee for the United States District Court.

Mr. Komeiji is an Adjunct Professor of Law at the William S. Richardson School of Law, University of Hawaii teaching Pretrial Litigation. He has also served as a faculty member for litigation-related seminars sponsored by the Judiciary, State of Hawaii, Hawaii State Bar Association, Hawaii Institute of Continuing Legal Education and the Pacific Law Institute.