Frequently Asked Questions

Can anyone use the service?

If you have a laptop computer or Personal Digital Assistant (PDA) with a wireless interface card, you can use the wireless system at the library.

What do I need to access the wireless network?

You need a laptop or PDA and a wireless Network PC Card. Wireless access uses the Wi-Fi standard IEEE 802.11 a,b, or g. After you purchase the card, follow the manufacturer's instructions to install it on your computer/device.

Can the library staff help me configure my computer/device?

The Library staff cannot assist you with your lap top, device, card or configuration. The Library staff cannot accept the liability of handling your equipment.

Can I print while using wireless?

Printing is not available. You may want to save your work to a USB Flash Drive, diskette or email files to yourself.

Am I allowed to use my device speakers?

Please use headphones when accessing Internet applications with sound (e.g., Internet radio, movie previews). The Library does not provide headphones.

Troubleshooting Tips

In many instances wireless devices will automatically detect the library's "hot spot" and configure themselves to use the system. There is no password required for access. If your device does not connect right away, please try the following:

- Make sure your wireless network adapter has been properly installed according to the manufacturer's instructions.
- Verify that your wireless network adapter has been properly configured to receive an "open" connection.
- Check your network connection to determine if your computer is recognizing the library wireless.
- Confirm with Library staff that the wireless network is active.
