Panel meeting: Spent fuel transportation safety

The Nuclear Waste Technical Review Board's Panel on the Waste Management System will meet November 19-20, 1997, to examine the safety issues surrounding spent fuel transport. The meeting, which is open to the public, will begin at 8:30 a.m. both days.

The first day will include presentations on the federal regulatory framework under which transportation will take place, transportation planning and practices (using a specific example), and risk analysis (with emphasis on methodologies). Representatives from the Department of Transportation, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Sandia National Laboratories, and Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory have been invited to make the presentations, along with several private consultants. On the second day, the presenters will participate in a round-table discussion of their topics. Representatives of the state of Nevada, the environmental community, the Department of Energy, and other stakeholder groups also will participate. The meeting will end around noon. A detailed agenda will be available approximately two weeks prior to the meeting by fax or email, or on the Board's web site at www.nwtrb.gov.

Time has been set aside for comments and questions from the public. While time may be limited by the number of people wishing to speak, written comments of any length may be submitted for the record. Those wishing to speak should register at the meeting.
