

Cultural and Ethnic Food and Nutrition Education Materials: A Resource List for Educators January 2008

This publication is a compilation of educational and background resources for those working with various ethnic/cultural groups. Background materials provide information about customs and cultural influences of groups and information on developing multicultural skills. Some background materials cover the health and nutritional status of groups; however, this is not a major emphasis of this publication. Also included are articles from professional journals on educational interventions with various groups. The practical materials, in English and other languages, cover a wide range of topics including nutrition, food safety, food preparation, food composition, and food-related terminology. They are geared for use in a variety of situations including community, school, patient and staff educational settings. Formats include videos, kits, models, graphics, CD-ROMS, books and booklets, and online documents.

Sources of additional information, including government and educational organizations which produce items that can be ordered, are listed in the last section.

Resources that are part of the National Agricultural Library (NAL) collection have an NAL Call Number listed. Lending and copy service information is provided at the end of this document. If you are not eligible for direct borrowing privileges, check with your local library on how to borrow through interlibrary loan. Materials cannot be purchased from NAL. Contact information is provided if you wish to purchase any materials on this list.
