

Comptroller of the Currency
Administrator of National Banks

US Department of the Treasury

Biographies

John W. Quill Deputy Comptroller for Special Supervision

John W. Quill is the deputy comptroller for special supervision at the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC).

Mr. Quill has served in this capacity since August of 2004. He is responsible for supervising the resolution of critical problem banks through rehabilitation or orderly failure management. Previously, he was the assistant deputy comptroller in charge of the Maryland/National Capital Area Field Office. He began his career in 1980 in Miami, Fla., with the OCC and has also served as a regional bank analyst in the former Atlanta District Office. He was commissioned as a national bank examiner in 1984.

Mr. Quill is a graduate of the University of South Florida and earned a bachelor's of science in Finance.

