U.S. Department of Energy's (DOE) Office of Environmental Management Takes Over Fast Flux Test Facility (FFTF) Decommissioning and Dismantlement Activities

The U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) announced today that the responsibility for work involving the decommissioning and dismantlement of the Fast Flux Test Facility (FFTF) nuclear research reactor has been transferred from the Office of Nuclear Energy to the DOE's Office of Environmental Management.

DOE's Environmental Management Office will now oversee management and implementation of all future activities to complete the shutdown of the FFTF and will begin decommissioning and dismantlement activities tomorrow.
