

Harold S. Taniguchi

Harold S. Taniguchi is Director of the King County Department of Transportation. He is in charge of the department's four divisions: transit, road services, fleet administration, and the King County International Airport (Boeing Field).

Mr. Taniguchi was appointed to the position in 2002. Previously he was the Deputy Director for two years, and was the King County Road Services Division manager for the previous three years. He has worked for King County since 1983 in various administrative positions in public works and budgeting.

He is a member of the Washington State Transportation Improvement Board.

Mr. Taniguchi holds a Bachelors of Arts from Pomona College and a Masters of Public Affairs from the University of Washington.