

The oral histories on this Website are the transcripts from audio-recorded, personal interviews with many who pioneered outer space and the Moon, and with those who continue the excitement of space exploration. To preserve the integrity of the audio record, the texts are presented with limited revisions and thus reflect the candid conversational style of the oral history format. Brackets and ellipses indicate where the text has been annotated or edited for clarity. The date of each interview is noted on the first page.

If available, the Biographical Data Sheet provided background information for the Oral Historian to prepare for the interview. A project research historian submitted the data sheet on the date listed at the end of the file.

Note: This interview was conducted as part of the NACA Oral History Project sponsored by the NASA Headquarters History Office. Mr. Kehlet worked as part of the Space Task Group, the precursor to the Manned Spacecraft Center/Johnson Space Center in Houston, Texas.
