Department of the Treasury - Internal Revenue Service

Instructions for Recipient

Original issue discount (OID) is the excess of an obligation's stated redemption price at maturity over its issue price (acquisition price for a stripped bond or coupon). OID is taxable as interest over the life of the obligation. If you are the holder of an OID obligation, generally you must include an amount of OID in your gross income each year you hold the obligation.

Obligations that may have OID include a bond, debenture, note, certificate, or other evidence of indebtedness having a term of more than 1 year. For example, the OID rules may apply to certificates of deposit (CDs), time deposits, bonus savings plans, and other deposit arrangements, especially if the payment of interest is deferred until maturity. In addition, the OID rules apply to Treasury inflation-indexed securities.

If, as the record holder, you receive Form 1099-OID showing amounts belonging to another person, you are considered a nominee recipient. You must file Form 1099-OID for each of the other owners showing the amounts allocable to each. Furnish a Form 1099-OID to each owner. File Form(s) 1099-OID with Form 1096, Annual Summary and Transmittal of U.S. Information Returns, with the Internal Revenue Service Center for your area. On each Form 1099-OID, list yourself as the "payer" and the other owner as the "recipient." On Form 1096, list yourself as the "filer." A husband or wife is not required to file a nominee return to show amounts owned by the other. If you bought or sold an obligation during the year and you are not a nominee, you are not required to issue or file Form 1099-OID showing the OID or stated interest allocable to the seller/buyer of the obligation.

Box 1. Shows the OID on the obligation for the part of the year you owned it. Report the amount in box 1 as interest income on your income tax return. However, if you paid acquisition or bond premium, or if the obligation is a stripped bond or stripped coupon, you must compute your proper amount of OID. If you must compute your proper OID, see Pub. 1212, List of Original Issue Discount Instruments, to figure the correct OID to report on your tax return.

Box 2. Shows other interest on this obligation for the year, which is an amount separate from the OID. If you held the obligation the entire year, report this amount as interest income on your tax return. If you disposed of the obligation or acquired it from another holder during the year, see Pub. 550, Investment Income and Expenses, for reporting instructions. If there is an amount in both boxes 2 and 6, the amount in box 2 is interest on a U.S. Treasury obligation and is exempt from state and local income taxes.

Box 3. Shows interest or principal forfeited if you withdrew the money before the maturity date of the obligation, such as from a CD. You may deduct this on the "Penalty on early withdrawal of savings" line of Form 1040.

Box 4. Shows backup withholding. Generally, a payer must backup withhold at a 31% rate if you did not furnish your taxpayer identification number to the payer. See Form W-9, Request for Taxpayer Identification Number and Certification, for information on backup withholding. Include this amount on your income tax return as tax withheld.

Box 5. Shows the identification number (CUSIP number) or description of the obligation. The description may include the stock exchange, issuer, coupon rate, and year of maturity.

Box 6. Shows OID on a U.S. Treasury obligation for the part of the year you owned it. Report this amount on your Federal income tax return, and see Pub. 1212 to figure any appropriate adjustments to this amount. This OID is exempt from state and local income taxes and is not included in box 1.

Box 7. Any amount shown is your share of investment expenses of a single-class REMIC. If you file Form 1040, you may deduct these expenses on the "Other expenses" line of Schedule A (Form 1040) subject to the 2% limit. This amount is included in box 2.

Payers, Please Note—

To help make it easier for you to get only the information you need to complete the Forms 1099, 1098, 5498, and W-2G you file, we provide general and specific form instructions as separate products. The products you should use for 2001 are the General Instructions for Forms 1099, 1098, 5498, and W-2G, which contain general information concerning Form 1099-OID and other forms in the 1099 series, and the separate specific instructions for each information return you file. Specific information needed to complete this form is given in the 2001 Instructions for Forms 1099-INT and 1099-OID. A chart in the general instructions gives a quick guide to which form must be filed to report a particular payment. You can order those instructions and additional forms by calling 1-800-TAX-FORM (1-800-829-3676). You can also get forms and instructions from the IRS's Internet Web Site at www.irs.gov.

Caution: Because the IRS processes paper forms by machine (optical character recognition equipment), you cannot file with the IRS Forms 1096, 1098, 1099, or 5498 that you print from the IRS's Internet Web Site.

Due dates. Furnish Copy B of this form to the recipient by January 31, 2002.

File Copy A of this form with the IRS by February 28, 2002. If you file electronically, the due date is April 1, 2002.

Foreign recipient. For information about withholding on and reporting of income paid to a foreign person, see Pub. 515, Withholding of Tax on Nonresident Aliens and Foreign Corporations, and the Instructions for Form 1042-S.
