

ERSD Researcher Receives Top DOE Honors

John Zachara, long-time ERSD researcher and senior chief scientist for environmental chemistry in the Chemical and Materials Sciences Division of PNNL's

Fundamental Sciences Directorate has been recognized by DOE with the prestigious E. O. Lawrence award. This award honors scientists and engineers at mid-career for exceptional contributions to research and technology development in support of DOE missions. Dr. Zachara was recognized along with seven other scientists and engineers in an announcement issued February 7, 2007. A full listing of award recipients and their backgrounds can be found at <http://www.doe.gov/news/4769.htm>. More information on the E.O. Lawrence awards can be found at <http://www.sc.doe.gov/lawrence/>.