Paperwork Reduction Act Notice

We ask for the information on this form to carry out the Internal Revenue laws of the United States. You are required to give us the information. We need it to ensure that you are complying with these laws and to allow us to figure and collect the right amount of tax.

The time needed to complete and file this form will vary depending on individual circumstances. The estimated average time is: Recordkeeping, 20 min.; Learning about the law or the form, 3 min.; Preparing the form, 13 min.; and Copying, assembling, and sending the form to the IRS, 20 min.

If you have comments concerning the accuracy of these time estimates or suggestions for making this form simpler, we would be happy to hear from you. You can write or call the IRS. See the Instructions for Form 1040.

General Instructions Purpose of Form

Use Form 3903-F to figure your moving expense deduction if you are a U.S. citizen or resident alien who moved to a new principal place of work (workplace) outside the United States or its possessions. If you qualify to deduct expenses for more than one move, use a separate Form 3903-F for each move.

Note: Use Form 3903, Moving Expenses, instead of this form if you moved from a foreign country to the United States or its possessions because of a change in the location of your job. Form 3903 should also be used by retirees and survivors who qualify to deduct their expenses for moving from a foreign country to the United States or its possessions.

Additional Information

For more details, get Pub. 521, Moving Expenses. Retirees and survivors should also get Pub. 521 for an explanation of the requirements that must be met to deduct moving expenses.

Other Forms You May Have To File

If you sold your main home in 1995, you must file Form 2119, Sale of Your Home, to report the sale.

Who May Deduct Moving Expenses

If you moved to a different home because of a change in job location outside the United States or its possessions, you may be able to deduct your moving expenses. You may be able to take the deduction whether you are self-employed or an employee. But you must meet certain tests explained next.

Distance Test.—Your new principal workplace must be at least 50 miles farther from your old home than your old workplace was. For example, if your old workplace was 3 miles from your old home, your new workplace must be at least 53 miles from that home. If you did not have an old workplace, your new workplace must be at least 50 miles from your old home. The distance between the two points is the shortest of the more commonly traveled routes between them.

Time Test.—If you are an employee, you must work full time in the general area of your new workplace for at least 39 weeks during the 12 months right after you move. If you are self-employed, you must work full time in the general area of your new workplace for at least 39 weeks during the first 12 months and a total of at least 78 weeks during the 24 months right after you move.

You may deduct your moving expenses even if you have not met the time test before your tax return is due. You may do this if you expect to meet the 39-week test by the end of 1996 or the 78-week test by the end of 1997. If you deduct your moving expenses on your 1995 return but do not meet the time test, you will have to either:

- Amend your 1995 tax return by filing Form 1040X, Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, or
- Report the amount of your 1995 moving expense deduction that reduced your 1995 income tax as income in the year you cannot meet the test. For more details, see Time Test in Pub. 521.

If you do not deduct your moving expenses on your 1995 return and you later meet the time test, you may take the deduction by filing an amended return for 1995. To do this, use Form 1040X.

Exceptions to the Time Test.—The time test does not have to be met if any of the following apply:

- Your job ends because of disability.
- You are transferred for your employer's benefit.
- You are laid off or discharged for a reason other than willful misconduct.
- You are filing this form for a decedent.

Members of the Armed Forces

If you are in the armed forces, you do not have to meet the distance and time tests if the move is due to a permanent change of station. A permanent change of station includes a move in connection with and within 1 year of retirement or other termination of active duty.

How To Complete the Form.—First, complete lines 3 through 5 using your actual expenses. Do not reduce your expenses by any reimbursements or allowances you received from the government in connection with the move. Also, do not include any expenses for moving services that were provided by the government. If you and your spouse and dependents are moved to or from different locations, treat the moves as a single move.

Next, enter on line 6 the total reimbursements and allowances you received from the government in connection with the expenses you claimed on lines 3 and 4. Do not include the value of moving services provided by the government. Then, complete line 7 if applicable.

Reimbursements

If your employer paid for any part of your move, your employer must give you a statement showing a detailed breakdown of reimbursements or payments for moving expenses. Your employer may use Form 4782, Employee Moving Expense Information, or his or her own form.

You may choose to deduct moving expenses in the year you are reimbursed by your employer, even though you paid the expenses in a different year. However, special rules apply. See How To Report in Pub. 521.

Moving Expenses Incurred Before 1994.—If you were reimbursed for moving expenses incurred before 1994 and you did not deduct those expenses on a prior year's return, you may be able to deduct them on Schedule A, Itemized Deductions. But you must use the 1994 Form 3903-F to do so. You can get the 1994 Form 3903-F by writing to the Western Area Distribution Center, Rancho Cordova, CA 95743-0001.

Filers of Form 2555

If you file Form 2555, Foreign Earned Income, to exclude any of your income or housing costs, report the full amount of your deductible moving expenses on Form 3903-F and on Form 1040, line 24. Report the part of your moving expenses that is not allowed because it is allocable to the excluded income on Form 2555, line 42. For details on how to figure the part allocable to the excluded income, get Pub. 54, Tax Guide for U.S. Citizens and Resident Aliens Abroad.

Specific Instructions

You may deduct the following expenses you incurred in moving your family and dependent household members. Do not deduct expenses for employees such as a maid, nanny, or nurse.

Line 3.—Enter the actual cost to pack, crate, move, store, and insure your household goods and personal effects. Also, include the cost of moving your possessions to and from storage and storing them for all or part of the time the new workplace continues to be your principal workplace.

Note: You don't have to complete this form if (1) you moved in an earlier year, (2) you are claiming only storage fees during your absence from the United States, and (3) any amount your employer paid for the storage fees is included in the wages box of your W-2 form. Instead, enter the storage fees on Form 1040, line 24, and write "Storage" next to the amount.

Line 4.—Enter the costs of travel from your old home to your new home. These include transportation and lodging on the way. Include costs for the day you arrive. Although not all the members of your household have to travel together or at the same time, you may only include expenses for one trip per person.

If you use your own car(s), you may figure the expenses by using either:

- Actual out-of-pocket expenses for gas and oil, or
- Mileage at the rate of 9 cents a mile.

You may add parking fees and tolls to the amount claimed under either method. Keep records to verify your expenses.
