

National Science Foundation
Computer and Information Sciences & Engineering (CISE)
Arlington, VA 22230

Dynamic Data Driven Applications Systems
Program Solicitation Briefing

March 17, 2005

Dear Colleague

NSF, NIH and NOAA invite the research and education community and other interested parties to a briefing on the Dynamic Data Driven Applications Systems program solicitation (NSF 05-570). The solicitation was released on March 10, 2005. You may view the solicitation at <http://www.nsf.gov/pubs/2005/nsf05570/nsf05570.htm>.

The briefing will include discussion of the program scope, the sponsor agencies' specific interests, relevant research and education directions and themes, the international dimensions of the program, and the potential for industry collaborations. Program officials of the sponsor agencies will be present to comment and respond to questions.

The briefing will take place in Room 375 at the National Science Foundation, 4201 Wilson Blvd., Arlington, Virginia on March 22, 2005, 4 pm - 5:30 pm (EST). The event will also be webcast. The webcast address will be posted prior to the briefing at the following url: <http://www.cise.nsf.gov/dddas>.

If you do plan to attend the briefing in person, please confirm your participation by sending an email message to dddas-briefing@nsf.gov by noon March 22, 2005, providing your name and organizational affiliation.

You may also provide questions to be addressed at the briefing at the same email address by noon March 22, 2005. The subject line of your email message for questions should be entered as: DDDAS Briefing Question.

Sincerely,

Frederica Darema, NSF
Senior Science and Technology Advisor, CNS/CISE/NSF
Lead of the DDDAS Coordinating Group