Advancing ADA: The Impact of the Olmstead Decision and the President's New Freedom Initiative on the Health of Persons with Disabilities

This symposium will explore not only the importance of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and the value added to ADA by both President Bush's New Freedom Initiative (NFI) and the Supreme Court's Olmstead decision, but also the reasons why health is particularly important for self-determination and community-based living for people with disabilities; describe how ADA, Olmstead, and NFI have affected the shape and direction of Medicaid and Medicare programs today; discuss how the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's (CDC) National Center on Birth Defects and Developmental Disabilities is promoting the health, well-being, independence, productivity, and full social participation of people with disabilities; take a look back and forward in the history of ADA; and describe the role of ADA, NFI, and Olmstead in the short-term and long-term transformation of America's mental health system. A question and answer period will close the session.

U.S. Access Board Public Hearing: Setting a New Agenda

This forum will provide an opportunity for the public to provide input on the Access Board's agenda for rulemaking, research, technical assistance, and training. Recommendations are sought on topics or issues that the Board should address through its task of writing guidelines for accessible design, its research program, or other means, such as information meetings. The Board also seeks recommendations on new guidance and training materials and how this information and related services can be delivered most effectively to its various audiences, particularly through its Web site.

Presiding Officer

Janice M. Tuck, Chair, U.S. Access Board

Session C

Salon D

Transportation in the 21st Century—An Update

This forum will provide insight into the strides made throughout the Department of Transportation (DOT). It will describe DOT's proactive outreach and technical assistance efforts to address civil rights issues as they apply to federal transit programs. Areas to be covered include: ADA; Regional Dialogues on Accessible Transportation; Easter Seals Project Action—Emerging Trends; Homeland Security—Emergency Preparedness for People with Disabilities; and the United We Ride Program—human service transportation for people with disabilities, older adults, and individuals with lower incomes. An overview will describe the Federal Transit Administration's Office of Civil Rights' responsibilities and accomplishments during FY 2004.

Panelists

Session F

Salons A and B

National Council on Disability, U.S. Department of Homeland Security, U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development: Making a Difference

The National Council on Disability (NCD) will present information on current and recently completed work that impact ADA, such as emergency management, livable communities, consumer choice, transportation, and universal design of products and technology. Each presenter will focus on the research completed or undertaken, highlighting how it relates to ADA and the difference ADA has made in the lives of Americans with disabilities.

Joining NCD members on the panel are representatives from the Departments of Homeland Security (DHS) and Housing and Urban Development (HUD). July 22, 2005, marked the one-year anniversary of President George W. Bush's signing of Executive Order (EO) 13347, "Individuals with Disabilities in Emergency Preparedness." DHS will provide a brief overview of some of the initiatives undertaken, results achieved, and future goals with regard to the implementation of this EO, including the work of the Interagency Coordinating Council on Emergency Preparedness and People with Disabilities created by the EO. HUD will provide a summary of findings from the recently released report, Discrimination Against Persons with Disabilities: Barriers at Every Step.
