To Whom it may concern;

   Good morning, I am replying to this e-mail in order to contribute on making this program more helpful for all involved. I have four items for you to consider.

1. It would be nice on the steel license entry page if there was a field that would except imperial dimensions as well as metric and do the converting automatically. (lbs. and inches etc.)

2. It would be nice if there are fields to enter in the freight cost and brokerage cost so that the customer does not have to calculate that out manually in this way the program will calculate the actual steel cost for the customer. This would save time and prevent errors.

3. To be able to do on one license with multiple entries from different mills. Once again this would save time and paperwork.

4. As a help feature to have on your web site it would be nice to have an current list of Tariff codes whereby the customer can scroll through by product to see which Tariff code applies. If the whole Tariff code list is to long to have on the web site then only list the ones that pertain to the steel industry since that is what this website is mainly focused on.

   Just want to mention that asking the input of steel companies in order to streamline your program was a great idea and hopefully the results will be that this will become a program that is not time consuming on our part and a more efficient way to collect data on your part.

Best regards.

Carl Evink.
Operations Manager.
Janco Steel ltd.