

Open Meeting
Leveraging - Collaborating with Stakeholders
Food and Drug Administration
Duke University Medical Center
April 12, 2000

Bee W
MR 14 2000
JP

3. Patient/Consumer Education on the Safe Use of Products - Risk Management

Veronica J. Scott, MD, MPH
Associate Director for Education and Program Evaluation
Nashville/York GRECC
Associate Professor of Medicine
Meharry Medical College
Project Director for both the Meharry Consortium GEC and the Meharry Consortium Rural Interdisciplinary Training Project

- I. The Need for Patient/ Consumer Education on the Safe Use of Products Among the Elderly
 - A. Both Genders
 - B. Rural and Urban Residents
 - C. Examples of Areas
 - 1. safe use of medications
 - 2. primary, secondary and tertiary prevention: mammography, PAP smears, PSI, HbA1C, BP checks, colon cancer screening, cardiovascular risk prevention
- II. Strategies for Collaboration
 - A. National Programs: GRECCs, GECs, RITs
 - B. Internet: new consumer education site to be launched May 1, 2000: minorityinterest.com
 - C. Others
- III. Questions & Answers

00N-0001

7522