DEFENSE CRIMINAL INVESTIGATIVE SERVICE

DCIS

Protecting America's Warfighters

Investigations Division
Office of Inspector General
 U.S. Department of Defense

MISSION

The mission of the Defense Criminal Investigative Service is to protect America's Warfighters by conducting investigations in support of crucial National Defense priorities.

VISION

Remain a versatile, responsive, and respected premier Federal law enforcement agency, demonstrating excellence in all aspects of operations.

"I work with a group of people who strive for excellence in everything they do."

"The high point of my career at DCIS has been conducting investigations involving the illegal diversion of U.S. Munitions List items to criminal enterprises and terrorist organizations. I know this work will make a difference in protecting our warfighters."

PROTECTING THE WARFIGHTER

The Defense Criminal Investigative Service protects America's Warfighters by investigating terrorism; preventing the illegal transfer of sensitive defense technologies to proscribed nations and criminal elements; investigating companies that use defective parts in weapons systems and equipment utilized by the military; stopping cyber crimes and computer intrusions; and investigating cases of fraud, bribery, and corruption to ensure taxpayer dollars are better spent defending our Nation.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE

DCIS is comprised of special agents who have full law enforcement authority; they make arrests, carry concealed weapons, execute search warrants, serve subpoenas, and testify in legal proceedings.

DCIS current investigative priorities include:

- Terrorism
- Substandard/Defective Products
- Corruption
- Cyber Crime
- Technology/Munitions Theft & Diversion

SPECIAL AGENT CAREERS

DCIS is the criminal investigative arm of the Department of Defense Inspector General. Employment with DCIS offers individuals a unique opportunity to serve their country by conducting investigations which ensure DoD remains capable of deterring war and defending our nation.

In furtherance of its mission, DCIS employs an elite, highly-trained team of special agents and support personnel, all of whom are steadfastly committed to "protecting America's warfighters" by conducting investigations in support of crucial National Defense priorities.

The DoD IG is competitive with other Federal law enforcement agencies in terms of career progression and pay progression.

To be considered for a DCIS special agent position, an individual must:

- Be a U.S. Citizen
- Be between 21 and 37 years of age
- Pass the complete applicant screening process, which includes an interview battery, drug screening, medical exam, and a physical fitness test
- Pass an extensive background investigation
- Possess exceptional communication skills
