

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE
NEWS
WASHINGTON, DC 20230

National
Telecommunications &
Information
Administration

For Immediate Release
February 16, 2006

Contact: NTIA Public Affairs
202-482-7002

Commerce Deputy Secretary to Address Use of Incentives as Part of President's Spectrum Policy Initiative

Deputy Secretary of Commerce David A. Sampson will deliver opening remarks and kick off a two-day policy reform workshop on the use of economic or other incentives in order to increase the efficiency of spectrum use. The workshop will address incentives that apply both to federal government as well as non-government spectrum users. Session topics will include spectrum valuation, rights and secondary markets, sharing and fees.

WHO: Deputy Secretary of Commerce David A. Sampson

WHAT: Opening remarks before a workshop on spectrum incentives

WHEN: Tuesday Feb. 28 at 8:30 am
Registration will be from 8:00 to 8:30 am

WHERE: National Academy of Sciences Building
2100 C Street NW
Telephone: 202-334-2605
Contact: Margaret Huynh

(Note: Reporters should phone to reserve space as seating is limited.)

This is the second workshop on spectrum policy that NTIA has sponsored through the National Academy of Sciences. In early 2004, NTIA sponsored a workshop on a wide range of spectrum policy issues of concern to government spectrum users, industry, and consumers. More information, including complete agendas and schedules, is available from the NTIA Web site at www.ntia.doc.gov.

###