ENFORCEMENT PROCEEDINGS

SAGE ADVISORY SERVICES LLC AND STANDARD GROUP HOLDINGS LLC ORDERED TO CEASE AND DESIST FROM VIOLATIONS AND TO DISGORGE $304,852 IN CONNECTION WITH FORMER MANAGER'S SOFT DOLLAR, CHURNING, BREACH OF DUTY TO SEEK BEST EXECUTION AND FRAUDULENT OFFERING VIOLATIONS

On July 27, the Commission announced the institution, and simultaneous settlement, of administrative proceedings against Sage Advisory Services LLC, as successor to Standard Asset Group LP (Sage), and Standard Group Holdings LLC, as successor to Standard Asset Group, Inc. (Standard). The Order finds that Sage, acting through its former chief executive, Gordon J. Rollert (Rollert), defrauded its largest investment advisory client, a church endowment fund (Church), by misappropriating almost $900,000 in soft dollar credits and by fraudulently offering investment interests in Sage to the Church. To generate large amounts of soft dollar credits, Sage, through Rollert, churned the Church account, which it had established at a Boston, Massachusetts broker-dealer, and breached its duty to seek to obtain best execution. Current management of Sage and Standard is not implicated in the conduct described in the Order. The Commission simultaneously accepted Sage and Standard's offers of settlement, in which they agreed, without admitting or denying the findings, to an order: (i) requiring Sage and Standard, jointly and severally, to pay disgorgement of $1.2 million, provided, however, that all but $304,852 is waived based on demonstrated inability to pay, with payments over three years; (ii) censuring them; (iii) ordering Sage to cease and desist from future violations of Sections 206(1) and 206(2) of the Advisers Act, and Section 10(b) of the Exchange Act and Rule 10b-5 thereunder and Sage and Standard to cease and desist from future violations of Advisers Act Section 207; and (iv) requiring Sage and Standard to perform various undertakings. (Rels. 33-7997; 34-44600; IA-1954; File No. 3-10540)

CEASE AND DESIST ORDER AND RULE 102(e) SANCTIONS ENTERED AGAINST JEFFREY YONKERS

The Commission has ordered Jeffrey M. Yonkers, a CPA residing in Sayville, New York, to cease and desist from violating Section 10A of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (Exchange Act) and has denied him the privilege of appearing or practicing before the Commission as an accountant with the right to apply for reinstatement after one year. The Order makes findings that Yonkers, while engaged in two audits of Detour Magazine, Inc., knew the issuer had, during 1998 and 1999, filed quarterly reports with the Commission which contained financial statements using simple fractions of line items from existing financial statements, rather than using the actual results of its operations for those quarters but that Yonkers failed to notify Detour's senior management or board of directors of this illegal act, thereby violating Section 10A of the Exchange Act. In the Order the Commission also found that Yonkers aided and abetted reporting violations by Detour by failing to properly record, or require Detour to record, an expense related to certain options the company issued to consultants in 1997, resulting in material overstatements of Detour's income in violation of Section 13(a) of the Exchange Act and Rules 13a-1 and 13a-13 thereunder. The Commission also found that Yonkers engaged in improper professional conduct under Rule 102(e) of the Commission's Rules of Practice. (Rel. 34-44606; AAE Rel. 1428; File No. 3-10354)

BANK OF AMERICA CORP. AGREES TO COMMISSION ORDER FINDING THAT IT VIOLATED REPORTING AND DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENTS

The Commission today initiated a settled administrative action, in which it found that BankAmerica Corp. (now known as Bank of America Corp.) improperly accounted for a business relationship it had with D.E. Shaw & Co., L.P. and related entities, and that BankAmerica made misleading filings with the Commission about the market risks presented by this relationship. Bank of America Corp. consented to a settlement of this action without admitting or denying the Commission's findings.

The Commission found that in March 1997, BankAmerica entered into a business alliance with D.E. Shaw that engaged in securities and derivatives trading and provided a means by which BankAmerica could offer derivatives products to its customers. BankAmerica was entitled to receive, among other things, certain of the trading profits of the alliance. The alliance was documented as a loan, and BankAmerica treated it as a loan for financial reporting and accounting purposes in certain filings made with the Commission during 1997 and 1998. The Commission found that treating the alliance as a loan was improper under Generally Accepted Accounting Principles. The alliance had substantially the risk characteristics of an equity investment rather than a loan. The Commission found that BankAmerica should have accounted for the alliance using the equity method of accounting, and recorded the alliance as an investment.

The activities of the alliance were financed by BankAmerica, and subjected BankAmerica to market risks carrying the potential for substantial losses. The alliance used a significant amount of leverage, which magnified these market risks and the consequent potential for losses. In August 1998, the Russian Federation defaulted on certain bonds and devalued its currency, which resulted in worldwide turmoil in the financial markets. By no later than mid-September 1998, the alliance had suffered substantial losses in various of its securities and derivatives positions as a result of this turmoil in the financial markets. The alliance's losses in turn created significant potential that BankAmerica would have to recognize substantial losses itself as a result of its relationship with the alliance. These losses and risk of loss were not adequately disclosed in certain Forms 10-K, 10-Q and 8-K filed by BankAmerica with the Commission.

More specifically, the Commission found that, during 1997 and 1998, BankAmerica described business advantages of the alliance in filings made on Forms 10-K and 10-Q. These filings, however, were deficient in that they did not disclose the market risks to which the alliance exposed BankAmerica and the potential for substantial losses arising out of those risks.

The Commission further found that, in a filing made with the Commission on Form 8-K on September 15, 1998, BankAmerica discussed certain of the effects on its operations of the worldwide financial turmoil caused by the fiscal and monetary crisis of the Russian Federation. This release, however, was inadequate, in that it did not disclose that the alliance had incurred substantial losses that presented increasing potential for substantial losses to BankAmerica at the close of its third quarter on September 30, 1998. Eventually, on October 14, 1998, Bank of America Corp. disclosed that it had taken a $372 million "writedown" as of September 30, 1998, as a result of the activities of the alliance. Net income reported by Bank of America Corp. for the quarter ended September 30, 1998 was $374 million.

Based on its findings, the Commission found that Bank of America Corp. violated Section 13(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rules 13a-1, 13a-11, 13a-13 and Rule 12b-20 by making materially misleading filings as described above. Bank of America Corp. was ordered to cease and desist from further violations of these provisions. (Rel. 34-44613; AAE Rel. 1429; File No. 3-10541; Press Rel. 2001-78)
