Why don't you try to help the ones that need help and are in poverty instead of trying to regulate the few vitamins and supplements that are available and let us live a healthy way. Is all this just for the money that you can make?. Let live in peace everybody else. You medical people, regulators of what you think is right. Stop for a moment and realize that all your rules and regulations can just turn to you, cause is going to happen, in the future maybe your own relatives or family can be in need of this substances and for any reason not been able to obtain. Are you going to create a new regulation to break your old ones? STOP PLAYING GOD
