The FDA should stop medicalizing safe dietary supplements - they are already regulated in the USA as foods!

Customers have the right to know about the beneficial health properties, and are usually very knowledgeable about the positive effects. In my 30 years' experience I have known far more about nutrition and supplements than 95% of the nutritionists, dieticians or medical doctors.

We do not need higher prices and reduced availability of supplements as we have see in some of the European countries.I would ask that you oppose all efforts to erode US sovereignty via FTAA.

Sincerely,
