To Whom It may Concern,

I recently received information from the Farm Sanctuary Organization regarding downed animal cruelty in the United States. I want to thank you for banning the slaughter of downed cattle for human consumption following the mad cow disease episode. I am hoping that you will make the ban permanent and that it will include all downed animals (sheep, pigs, and other livestock, as well as cattle). I also feel that a requirement should be added that all downed animals should immediately be euthanized, wherever they become downed. By banning the slaughter of downed animals, this will put an end to suffering of thousands of animals each year.

Thank you,
