Dear whoever,

As an owner of two cattle ranches, the treatment of "downer" cattle is an anathema to me. We try so hard to give their time grazing ^{at least} at will on our mountain cattle pastures, or at the Hill country one, with a lake and streams. The thought that in transit some might get hurt and so be subjected to a painful death is abhorant. The death itself is bad enough.

Please help to maintain the ban on "downed" cattle. It is the least we can do.

Sincerely, Terry Hershey
