SURVEY HIGHLIGHTS

Population Coverage

Data on active Federal civilian employment as of December 31, 1998, cover all Federal departments and agencies except for the Central Intelligence Agency, National Security Agency, Defense Intelligence Agency, National Imagery and Mapping Agency, Army/Air Force Exchange Service, Consolidated Metropolitan Technical Personnel Center, Public Health Service's Commissioned Corps, and seasonal employees other than Department of Defense's Education Activity. This survey includes the U.S. Postal Service. Special treatment is made for seasonal employees.

Major Geographic Areas

Federal civilian employment totaled 2,862,647 in the geographic survey as of December 31, 1998. Federal civilian employment worldwide rose slightly by 0.7 percent (+19,707) during 1997 and 1998.

Most Federal civilian employees worked in the United States (2,757,547 or 96.4 percent) while some worked in the U.S. territories (20,833 or 0.7 percent) and in foreign countries (84,267 or 2.9 percent). There were 334,073 employees (11.7 percent) working in the Washington, District of Columbia-Maryland-Virginia-West Virginia metropolitan statistical area and 2,423,474 (87.7 percent) located in the United States outside the Nation's capital area. Most Federal employees (87.7 percent) located in the United States and Puerto Rico worked in metropolitan areas. Changes since the 1996 survey are discussed in the following sections.

States

Federal civilian employment varied by State from 265,472 in California to 5,481 in Delaware. Seven States had more than 100,000 Federal civilian workers: California 265,472; Texas 174,561; Virginia 146,551; New York 139,425; Maryland 130,889; Florida 115,605; and Pennsylvania 112,680. There were also 181,077 Federal civilian employees working in the Nation's capital city of Washington in the District of Columbia. The chart on the next page shows December 1998 Federal civilian employment by State in five aggregate employment categories. State distributions are shown on Table 3 by pay system category and on Table 5 by county (or independent city) and selected agency.

Short-Term State Trends

Since December 1996, the District of Columbia and 12 States had net decreases in Federal civilian employment. The District of Columbia lost 4,370 Federal civilian workers, primarily in Treasury (-2,944); the largest increase was in Justice (+2,163). Virginia lost 4,018 workers due to Defense cutbacks (Army down 2,314 and Navy down 2,773) although the U.S. Postal Service added 2,448. Defense cutbacks also outweighed Postal gains in the employment drops for California (-3,998), New Jersey (-3,080), Kentucky (-2,870), and Indiana (-1,260). Kentucky had the largest net percentage loss of -8.5 percent.

Maryland gained the most employees (+5,265), primarily in Treasury (+2,406), U.S. Postal Service (+1,692), Commerce (+1,470), Navy (+1,026), and Health and Human Services (+1,010). Nevada had the largest net percentage gain (+8.0 percent) due to U.S. Postal Service.

Metropolitan Areas

Each of the 335 Metropolitan Statistical Areas (MSAs) in the United States and Puerto Rico had Federal civilian employees in December 1998. Excluding the 51,127 employees surveyed with unspecified State, most Federal civilian employees located in the United States and Puerto Rico worked in metropolitan areas (87.7 percent or 2,386,763). Small towns and rural areas outside MSAs had only 12.3 percent (335,967) of Federal workers.

The Washington, DC-MD-VA-WV MSA had the most Federal civil servants (334,073) because all the large agencies have their headquarters there. Four metropolitan areas had the next largest concentration of Federal civilian employment: Chicago, IL with 67,912; New York, NY with 70,893; Los Angeles-Long Beach, CA with 57,783; and Philadelphia, PA-NJ with 54,905 workers. There were 22 other large MSAs with 20,046 to 46,149 Federal civilian employees. The Arecibo, Puerto Rico MSA had the lowest Federal population with just 157. MSA distributions are shown on Table 2 by pay system category and on Table 4 by major agency.

Consolidated Metropolitan Statistical Areas (CMSAs) have populations of more than one million and meet other criteria specified by the Office of Management and Budget's Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs; 76 of the MSAs make up the 19 CMSAs. The largest CMSAs were the Washington-Baltimore, DC-MD-VA-WV CMSA with 380,885 Federal civilian employees; the New York-Northern New Jersey-Long Island, NY-NJ-CT-PA CMSA with 160,255; and the Los Angeles-Riverside-Orange County, CA CMSA with 97,196.

Since December 1996, Federal civilian employment in the United States (excluding unspecified State) and Puerto Rico increased in metropolitan statistical areas by +0.9 percent (+21,403) and declined in small towns and rural areas by -0.4 percent (-1,303).

The table on the next page shows the 13 CMSAs and 6 MSAs with more than 25,000

Federal civilian employees in December 1996 or 1998. U.S. Postal Service caused the large percentage gains in Dallas-Fort Worth, TX (+9.8 percent) and Detroit-Ann Arbor-Flint, MI (+6.3 percent). Defense cutbacks caused the large percentage drops in San Antonio, TX (-7.4 percent due to Air Force down 2,348) and St. Louis, MO-IL (-6.8 percent due to Army down 3,230).

The Washington-Baltimore, DC-MD-VA-WV CMSA decreased by 5,428 (-1.4 percent) due to Navy dropping 5,330 and Army dropping 3,071 while U.S. Postal Service added 3,228; Justice added 2,622; and Commerce added 1,993. Defense cutbacks caused the sizeable losses in San Antonio, TX (-2,569), St. Louis, MO-IL (-2,008), New York-Northern New Jersey-Long Island, NY-NJ-CT-PA (-1,323), and San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (-1,012). Numerous agency changes contributed to modest losses in Los Angeles-Riverside-Orange County, CA (-353) and Philadelphia-Wilmington-Atlantic City, PA-NJ-DE-MD (-373). Navy expansion caused the gain in Norfolk-Virginia Beach-Newport News, VA-NC (+852). U.S. Postal Service expansions caused the sizeable gains in all the other large metropolitan areas.

Overseas Areas and U.S. Citizenship

Federal civilian employees overseas totaled 105,100 in December 1998 (3.7 percent of worldwide total) of which 20,833 worked in U.S. territories and 84,267 in foreign countries. The U.S. territories with the most Federal civilian employees were: Puerto Rico with 16,310; Guam with 3,379; and U.S. Virgin Islands with 950. The six foreign countries with the most Federal civilian employees were: 17,811 in Germany; 13,753 in Panama; 11,054 in Republic of Korea (South Korea); 7,281 in Japan; 6,188 in Italy; and 2,818 in the United Kingdom (Great Britain). Table 6 shows employment in foreign countries and Table 7 in U.S. territories by agency.

Since December 1996, Federal civilian employment in foreign countries dropped by 3,674 for a -4.2 percent decline. Defense cutbacks caused the employment decreases in Germany (-1,148), Panama (-834), Japan (-512), South Korea (-392), and Cuba (-242). In the U.S. Territories, Federal civilian employment expanded by 1,244 for a +6.4 percent gain. Puerto Rico added 1,951 due to 977 additional Federal Emergency Management Agency workers for hurricane relief and 296 more Postal workers. Guam lost 555 (926 in Navy).

The United States Government employed 67,832 U.S. citizens in overseas locations as well as 37,268 direct hire noncitizens as of December 31, 1998. Federal civilian employees in U.S. territories were mostly U.S. citizens. Federal civilian employment in foreign countries consisted of 47,017 U.S. citizens and 37,250 noncitizens. U.S. citizenship of employees by agency is shown by foreign country on Table 6 and by U.S. territory on Table 7.

Since December 1996, employment in foreign countries declined (down 3,674 or -4.2 percent): U.S. citizens decreased by 1,331 or -2.8 percent and noncitizens decreased by 2,343 or -5.9 percent. Federal civilian employment in U.S. territories expanded by 1,244 or +6.4 percent; U.S. citizens increased by 1,239 or +6.3 percent while noncitizens increased by 5.

Major Agencies

Two-thirds of the Federal civilian employees worked in three large agencies: U.S. Postal Service (990,014 or 34.6 percent); Department of Defense (712,301 or 24.9 percent); and the Department of Veterans Affairs (238,086 or 8.3 percent). These agencies have employment in all States as shown in the table on the next page. Defense Department employment was more concentrated in coastal States partly due to naval installations.

 Mostly Judicial Branch (58%) and the Federal Bureau of Investigation (39%).

With their service delivery responsibilities, the U.S. Postal Service and Department of Veterans Affairs employment distributions more closely reflected the Nation's general population distribution. Table 1 lists each agency with Federal civilian employment totals for all areas and for the United States. The larger agencies are listed in Table 4 for the metropolitan statistical areas and in Table 5 for the States and counties.

Defense cutbacks continued with 67,303 fewer employees (-8.6 percent) since December 1996 with Army down 24,590 or -9.4 percent, Navy down 22,642 or -10.5 percent, Air Force down -10,861 or -6.2 percent, Defense Logistics Agency down 5,105 or -11.0 percent, and other Defense agencies down 4,105 or -5.1 percent. The Department of Veterans Affairs also continued to decline, losing 14,984 or -5.9 percent. The U.S. Postal Service expanded its workforce, adding 98,204 or 11.0 percent. Employment in all other agencies (one-third of all Federal civilian employees) remained stable, rising only 0.4 percent (+3,790).

Agencies that were able to add employees included Justice (+12,108 or +10.9 percent), Commerce (+4,873 or +14.3 percent), Health and Human Resources (+2,484 or +4.4 percent), Judicial Branch (+2,234 or +7.6 percent), Environmental Protection Agency (+1,705 or +9.7 percent), Interior (+1,592 or +2.6 percent), and Transportation (+1,443 or +2.3 percent).

The agencies with sizeable declines included Treasury (-6,742 or -4.8 percent), Agriculture (-3,902 or -4.0 percent), Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (-2,236 or -23.1 percent), Energy (-2,217 or -12.1 percent), National Aeronautics and Space Administration (-2,009 or -9.5 percent), Tennessee Valley Authority (-1,654 or -10.5 percent), Housing and Urban Development (-1,380 or -12.2 percent), and General Services Administration (-1,328 or -8.6 percent).

Pay Systems

About half (44.7 percent or 1,279,406) of Federal civil servants were paid under the General Schedule as of December 31, 1998. Postal pay plans covered a third (34.6 percent or 990,070). Wage systems for blue-collar workers covered 8.3 percent (237,852). The remaining 12.4 percent (355,319) were mostly white-collar workers paid under various other pay plans.

The employment distributions by pay system were similar for Federal employment in the United States and U.S. territories. In foreign countries, the Foreign Service raised the percentage employment in "other" pay plans, while there were fewer General Schedule, fewer wage, and no postal employees there. The Washington, DC-MD-VA-WV Metropolitan Statistical Area had proportionally higher white-collar employment with 217,083 or 65.0 percent General Schedule; 15,386 or 4.6 percent wage systems; 27,978 or 8.4 percent postal pay plans; and 73,626 or 22.0 percent in other (mostly white-collar) pay plans. Pay system distributions are shown on Table 1 by agency for all areas and for the United States, on Table 2 for metropolitan statistical areas, and on Table 3 for States.

Pay system distributions worldwide changed significantly since December 1996 with General Schedule employment down 65,467 (-4.9 percent) and wage systems down 25,714 (-9.8 percent) while postal pay systems went up 98,213 (+11.0 percent) and "other" pay systems went up 12,675 (+3.7 percent) due mostly to new demonstration pay plans within the Defense Department.

servants nationwide worked a full-time work schedule, usually a 40-hour workweek. Another 6.6 percent worked part-time on a regular schedule such as 4 hours each workday and the remaining 8.3 percent worked an intermittent schedule (working only as needed) such as forest fire fighters. Employment in some States showed considerable differences from the nationwide work schedule distribution: full-time employment as a percent of total employment ranged from 95.4 percent in the District of Columbia, 91.7 percent in Virginia, and 91.3 percent in Hawaii to 73.6 percent in New Hampshire, 73.7 percent in Iowa, and 73.7 percent in Wisconsin.

More than two-thirds of part-time and intermittent employees worked for the U.S. Postal Service (72.3 percent or 296,968). The other major employers of part-timers were the Department of Veterans Affairs (19,933); Defense Department (11,838); and Social Security Administration (3,529). Major agency employers of intermittent workers were Veterans Affairs (21,794); Agriculture (5,210); Federal Emergency Management Agency (4,452); Defense (4,422); and Health and Human Services (4,141).

Since December 1996, United States total Federal civilian employment increased slightly by 22,137 or +0.8 percent. Full-time employment dropped by 51,944 or -2.2 percent due to Defense Department cutbacks. The U.S. Postal Service caused the expansions in part-time employment (up 23,606 or +14.9 percent) and intermittent employment (up 50,475 or +28.3 percent).

Seasonal Workforces

This survey includes employment on the specific date of December 31, 1998, and all tables exclude seasonal employees except for 13,726 working in December for the Department of Defense Education Activity.

However, since other seasonal employees make up a significant part of the workforce for some agencies and States during the year, we have included a special section on the seasonal workforces.

Seasonal employees work less than 12 months a year on an annually recurring basis; seasonal employees may work a full-time, part-time, or intermittent work schedule when on duty. Examples of seasonal employees are school teachers and outdoor workers. Agencies that employed the most seasonal workers were Treasury's Internal Revenue Service, Defense's Education Activity, Interior's Bureau of Indian Affairs (schools), and Agriculture's Forest Service and Marketing Service.

The various agencies have different seasonal workforces. The Internal Revenue Service and Social Security Administration employees work mostly during tax season in the first half of the year while the Defense Education Activity and Indian Schools employees work a school year. Weather is the seasonal factor for some agencies; seasonal employees in National Parks and National Forests worked more in the warmer months. Seasonal employees worked throughout the year at the Commerce's Census Bureau, Justice's Immigration and Naturalization Service, Small Business Administration, Agricultural Marketing Service, and Naval Sea Systems Command.

Seasonal employment data were reviewed for March 1998, June 1998, September 1998, and December 1998; the largest figures are presented on the following "Calendar Year 1998 Peak Seasonal Workforce" table. For example, the Internal Revenue Service had 1,902 seasonal employees in California in March; 1,046 in June; 892 in September; and 840 in December, so we showed the largest total of 1,902 in the table. Each agency total was figured independently and then added to make the grand total. The table on page 13 thus presents the Calendar Year 1998 largest seasonal workforces for State, U.S. territory total, foreign country total, and grand total; the table presents columns for grand total and selected agency subelements. Note: These data exclude the U.S. Postal Service, Tennessee Valley Authority, and several other smaller agencies that do not participate in the Central Personnel Data File.

During peak employment periods throughout 1998, there were a total of 71,955 seasonal employees. During their seasonal periods, 76 percent worked full-time, 9 percent worked part-time, and 15 percent worked an intermittent work schedule.

Since 1996, peak seasonal employment grew by 5,351 or +8.3 percent due to increases in the Defense Education Activity (+3,425), Agriculture Department's Forest Service (+1,199), and the Commerce Department's Census Bureau (+885). The percentages by work schedule changed only slightly.

Most seasonal employees worked for the Internal Revenue Service (23,548 or 32.7 percent of the 71,955 peak seasonal employees); Agriculture Department's Forest Service (13,367 or 18.6 percent) shown as "National Forests"; or in schools operated by the Department of Defense Education Activity (16,741 or 23.3 percent) and the Interior Department's Bureau of Indian Affairs (5,018 or 7.0 percent) shown as "Indian Schools."

The Internal Revenue Service employed 23,548 seasonals in all States, but primarily in the following 10 States: 2,557 in Kentucky; 2,416 in New York; 2,323 in Utah; 2,299 in Texas; 2,128 in Georgia; 2,095 in Missouri; 2,039 in Pennsylvania; 1,902 in California; 1,901 in Tennessee; and 1,786 in Massachusetts. The Social Security Administration had 724 seasonals in Pennsylvania. The Census Bureau had 2,143 seasonals in Indiana (2,142) and Maryland (1). Immigration and Naturalization Service had 540 seasonals in many locations (126 in New York).

The 16,741 seasonals in Department of Defense Education Activity (836 in North Carolina) were mostly located overseas, primarily in Germany (5,300); Japan (3,452); Italy (914); Great Britain (872), and South Korea (821). The 5,018 seasonals in Indian schools were mostly in Arizona (1,769) and New Mexico (1,659).

The 1,813 seasonal employees working in the National Parks were located throughout the United States and U.S. territories while the 13,367 working in National Forests were primarily located in the Pacific Northwest: 1,977 in California; 1,929 in Oregon; 1,855 in Idaho; 1,338 in Washington; and 1,070 in Montana. Small Business Administration had 536 seasonals, primarily in California (192), Georgia (127), Tennessee (109), and New York (94). APPENDIX I

POPULATION COVERAGE, SURVEY CHANGES & DEFINITIONS

POPULATION COVERAGE

This survey publication covers all Federal civilian employees as of December 31, 1998, except for the following agencies and groups of employees:

- a. Central Intelligence Agency (exempt by law from personnel reporting requirements for reasons of security)
- b. National Security Agency (exempt by law from personnel reporting requirements for reasons of security)
- c. Defense Intelligence Agency (exempt from personnel reporting requirements for reasons of security)
- d. National Imagery and Mapping Agency (formerly Defense Central Imagery Office and Defense Mapping Agency)
- e. Air / Air Force Exchange Service
- f. Consolidated Metropolitan Technical Personnel Center
- g. Commissioned officers (5,758) serving in the Department of Health and Human Services (4,877), Department of Justice (561), Department of Transportation (154), Environmental Protection Agency (129), and other Federal agencies (37). Commissioned officers (commissioned corps) wear uniforms, bear rank, are paid under military pay schedules, and use standard military forms to document their personnel actions. Their quasi-military character is incompatible with the civilian basis of this report.

- h. Seasonal employees (except Department of Defense Education Activity) due to their variation in numbers throughout the year. The 27,452 seasonal employees excluded from the December 1998 geographic survey were in the following agencies: 8,048 Treasury; 6,984 Agriculture; 6,223 Interior; 2,193 Navy; 2,182 Commerce; 436 Air Force; and 1,386 in other agencies.

SURVEY CHANGES

Agency changes between December 1996 and December 1998 are listed below.

New Agencies

- a. Chemical Safety and Hazard Investigation Board
- b. Commission on Maintaining U.S. Nuclear Weapons Expertise
- c. Commission on the Advancement of Federal Law Enforcement
- d. Defense Threat Reduction Agency (part of Other Defense Agencies)
- e. Medicare Payment Advisory Commission
- f. National Gambling Impact Study Commission
- g. TRICARE Management Activity (part of Other Defense Agencies)

Terminated Agencies excluding those agencies staffed after December 1996, but terminated before December 1998

- a. Assassinations Records Review Board

Agency Title Changes

Two agencies summarized under Other Defense Activities also had title changes.

State, U.S. Territory, or Foreign Country had several changes in foreign country names as follows: Burkina to Burkina Faso, Republic of Palau to Palau, Western Samoa to Samoa, and Republic of Zaire to Democratic Republic of the Congo.

County or Independent City coverage was unchanged from the previous survey.

Metropolitan Area. The Office of Management and Budget issued revised statistical definitions for metropolitan areas effective June 30, 1998, and these were the definitions still effective for the December 31, 1998, survey. The only change was the one new metropolitan statistical area of Missoula, MT comprising Missoula County, Montana. There are now 335 metropolitan statistical areas (MSAs). For statistical analysis, 76 of the MSAs can be combined into the 19 Consolidated Metropolitan Statistical Areas (CMSAs).

Pay System changes during 1997-1998 are new pay plans in the "Other" pay system category as listed below:

- a. DB - Demonstration Engineers and Scientists for the Department of Defense (DOD)
- b. DE - Demonstration Engineers and Scientists Technicians for DOD
- c. DJ - Demonstration Administrative for DOD
- d. DK - Demonstration General Support for DOD
- e. DR - Demonstration Air Force Scientist and Engineer for the Air Force
- f. EV - Federal Aviation Administration Executive Compensation Plan for the Department of Transportation's Federal Aviation Administration (FAA)

- h. IJ - Immigration Judge Schedule for the Department of Justice
- i. ND - Demonstration Scientific and Engineering for the Navy
- j. NG - Demonstration General Support for Navy
- k. NT - Demonstration Administrative and Technical for Navy

U.S. Citizenship coverage was unchanged from the previous survey.

Work Schedule codes for on-call employment were abolished in October 1995.

DEFINITIONS

Effective Date. Most data in this report are as of December 31, 1998.

Agency. For this report, an agency is any administration, authority, board, commission, committee, conference, corporation, council, department, foundation, independent agency, office, or tribunal whose civilian employees are paid from appropriated funds, and for whom a valid two-digit alphabetic identifying code exists (assigned by U.S. Office of Personnel Management when new agency is staffed). Although some departments refer to their major subelements as "agencies," these subelements are not separately classed as agencies in this report. Subelement data are available in this report only for the Department of Defense and for the special analysis of the seasonal workforce.

Geographic Area. Employment data are based on where employees work (duty location). OPM does not collect data on employee place of residence. Agencies report place of employment using standard geographic location codes defined by the General Services Administration. These codes reflect Federal Information Processing Standards issued by the National Institute of Standards and Technology in the Department of Commerce. This report includes the locations of Unspecified State. Three-fifths (58 percent) of the "unspecified" State data are the employees of the Judicial Branch located outside the Washington, DC-MD-VA-WV Metropolitan Statistical Area. Two-fifths (39 percent) of the "unspecified" State data are the employees of the Justice Department's Federal Bureau of Investigation which, for employee security reasons, does not report duty locations outside the Washington, DC-MD-VA-WV MSA.

This report presents data by States, U.S. territories, and foreign countries. U.S.

territories refer to all outlying areas of the United States, including territories, commonwealths, protectorates, dependencies, etc. U.S. territories now include: American Samoa, Guam, Johnston Atoll, Midway Islands, Northern Mariana Islands, Puerto Rico, U.S. Virgin Islands, Wake Island, and miscellaneous Pacific islands such as Baker, Howland, Jarvis, and Navassa Islands, Kingman Reef and Palmyra Atoll. No Federal civilian employment was reported from the miscellaneous Pacific Islands.

The use, occupation, and control of the Panama Canal Zone granted in 1904 to the United States under the terms of a treaty with the Republic of Panama, ended on October 1, 1979; however, the Panama Canal Commission provides for the management, operation, and maintenance of the Panama Canal until 1999. Since 1979, employment in Panama is included in "foreign countries" rather than "U.S. territories."

Table 5 shows detailed data by counties within States. Counties include county-equivalent areas such as Alaska boroughs, Alaska census areas, Louisiana parishes, and Virginia independent cities. The survey also collected data by city or place; those data are not published but are available from the survey manager.

Tables 2 and 4 present data by metropolitan statistical area, an integrated economic and social unit with a recognized large population nucleus; these areas are defined in Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) Publication 8-6. There are 335 Metropolitan Statistical Areas (MSAs) with a city of at least 50,000 population or else an urbanized area with at least 50,000 population and a total metropolitan area population of at least 100,000 (75,000 in New England). For statistical analysis, 76 of the MSAs can be combined into the 19 Consolidated Metropolitan Statistical Areas (CMSAs) with more than one million population and meeting certain other specified requirements.

Pay System Category. This report presents employment by four categories called "pay systems": General Schedule, Wage, Postal Service, and a residual "Other" category. Each system represents a combination of two or more individual pay plans. The General Schedule system includes the General Schedule pay plan, the principal pay plan covering white-collar employees in the Federal Government, and the pay plan for employees covered by the Performance Management and Recognition System (PMRS) termination procedures. The Wage system encompasses most blue-collar employees and supervisors, generally paid at rates prevailing in the localities where they work. The Postal Service system covers all employees paid under postal pay schedules (plans), which includes all U.S. Postal Service and Postal Rate Commission employees. The remaining pay plans not included in one of these three major systems make up the "Other" category. Some examples are the Executive Schedule, the Senior Executive Service, pay plans for positions whose rates of pay are administratively determined, Foreign Service pay plans, and doctor and nurses schedules (pay plans) in the Veterans Administration.

U.S. Citizenship. Tables 6 and 7 show the U.S. citizenship of Federal civilian employees working overseas. Employees are identified as either U.S. citizens or noncitizens of the United States. Residents born in Guam, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands have U.S. citizenship. Natives of American Samoa and Swains Island are not U.S. citizens but, as a group, owe permanent allegiance to the United States; they are identified as U.S. citizens in this report.

Work Schedule. Beginning with the 1979 survey, detailed work schedule information by agency on the Federal civilian workforce is available for States, counties, cities, and MSAs, although this report includes only a summary table. Work schedule identifies full-time, part-time, and intermittent employees, as defined below:

Full-time includes those employees regularly scheduled to work the number of hours and days required by the administrative workweek for their employment group or class. Most full-time employees have an administrative workweek of 5 days of 8 hours each.

Part-Time includes those employees regularly scheduled to work less than the number of hours and days required by the administrative workweek for their employment group or class. Those part-time employees hired before April 8, 1979, could be scheduled for any number of hours less than 40 per week. Beginning April 8, 1979, permanent part-time employees could not be scheduled for more than 32 hours per week and could be scheduled for less than 16 hours per week only under unusual circumstances.

Intermittent includes those employees employed on an irregular or occasional basis, whose hours or days are not on a prearranged schedule, and who receive pay only for the time actually employed or for services actually performed.

Please note that seasonal employees, except for the Department of Defense Education Activity, are not included in the main geographic survey tables. Seasonal employees work less than 12 months a year on an annually recurring basis; seasonal employees may work a full-time, part-time, or intermittent work schedule when on duty.

INTRODUCTION

Associated with every statistical survey are different types of errors affecting each stage of the survey, from initial data collection to the printing of the publication. This Appendix covers areas of potential errors arising from various survey operations. When possible, we estimated the size of the error. When no information was available about the sources and potential impact of error, we noted it. We did not attempt to determine how the errors interact. The user of this publication should consider the various data limitations discussed below.

DATA SOURCES

Most of the data in this publication came from the Central Personnel Data File; Federal agencies reported the additional data. These two data sources are described briefly below.

Central Personnel Data File. The Central Personnel Data File (CPDF), started in 1972 and maintained by the U.S. Office of Personnel Management (OPM), is an automated system of individual records for most Federal civilian employees. It is updated on a quarterly basis from data submitted by agency input of employment status files. We edit all input files for validity, and insert functional blanks into data fields with errors. In December 1998, CPDF contained 1,788,247 active records on non-Postal Federal civilian employees.

Non-CPDF Data Collection. Non-CPDF data were collected through four procedures. First, the U.S. Postal Service (USPS) and Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) submitted individual employee records on magnetic tape; we converted these data to the CPDF record format. Second, most of the other non-CPDF agencies and the CPDF agencies with foreign nationals employed overseas submitted summarized data on OPM Form 1312 with geographic location, pay system category, work schedule (if located in United States), and U.S. citizenship (if located overseas). Third, we generated survey data for the Congress, Congressional Budget Office, General Accounting Office, U.S. Court of Veterans Appeals, Judicial Branch, White House Office,

Office of the Vice President, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and Postal Rate Commission, mostly from their December 1998 Monthly Report of Federal Civilian Employment (SF 113-A). Fourth, the State Department did not report cities for their foreign nationals in some overseas locations so we used their December 1996 geographic survey data to assign city codes for the unreported locations for the 1998 survey.

DATA CORRECTIONS

Automated Edits. Records for all active employees were extracted from the CPDF file excluding seasonal employees (other than the 13,726 teachers and staff with the Department of Defense Education Activity which were included). Special extracts were prepared from CPDF to reflect the seasonal workforces (see pages 12-14).

Special processing was done for the CPDF data by matching CPDF records with unspecified geographic location against the CPDF error files (from CPDF edits) to substitute back in the original geographic location and U.S. citizenship code. These geographic locations were rejected again by the subsequent geographic survey edits but we had data which could be corrected (cannot correct unspecified data).

After the above special processing, CPDF records along with all the other data submitted for the survey were edited by an automated procedure to meet criteria specific to this report. The edits identify and reject all employee records with unspecified or invalid data for geographic location, U.S. citizenship (for overseas locations), work schedule (for USA locations), pay plan, agency, and agency subelement (for Defense Department in the main survey and for other agencies in the special analysis of the seasonal workforce).

Corrections. We analyzed the error listings and made 5,643 corrections to increase the coverage of the report and insure the most accurate representation of the status of agencies and employment.

The unspecified State code 99 was assigned for 1,015 unspecified or erroneous geographic locations. U.S. Territory codes were corrected for 13 while 562 erroneous foreign country codes in agency reports were corrected. County codes were updated for 1,990 (mostly U.S. Postal Service). City errors were corrected for 309 with name available in agency reports; the other 1,580 city or place code errors (mostly U.S. Postal Service) were changed to unspecified.

No corrections were needed for agency and U.S. citizenship codes. One Defense subelement code was assigned. The 140 CPDF records with unspecified pay plan were assigned to "other" pay plans. Since most employees work full-time, unspecified work schedule was changed to full-time for 33 employee records.

BENCHMARKS

Table I below shows the distribution of records used for the December 1998 survey (after making all data corrections) compared to benchmarks (BM).

Table I: Geographic Survey Benchmarks

Source	Survey	Benchmark	% of BM
CPDF	1,760,795	1,788,368	98.46
USPS	990,014	953,025	103.88
TVA	14,116	13,828	102.08
Agencies	60,470	60,359	100.18
Noncitizens
Overseas	37,252	39,448	94.43
Total	2,862,647	2,855,028	100.27

This survey achieved 100.27 percent coverage worldwide when benchmarked against December 1998 data collected on the Monthly Report of Federal Civilian Employment (Standard Form 113-A) from all departments and agencies of the Federal Government except the Central Intelligence Agency, National Security Agency, Defense Intelligence Agency, and National Imagery and Mapping Agency. Data in this survey were benchmarked against the December 1998 113-A data adjusted to geographic survey coverage by including all intermittent employees and excluding Commissioned Corps.

Some agency survey totals were more than 5 percent different from their benchmark totals. Most were small agencies with small actual differences which yielded percentage differences greater than 5 percent. Treasury, Agriculture, Interior, Commerce, and Small Business Administration survey totals were more than 5 percent lower than their benchmark totals because the survey excludes their seasonal employees.

After completion of all the editing and data corrections, we merged the accepted CPDF and non-CPDF data and improved place names for 178 records in 4 locations. The statistical table outputs were then generated. Checks were made for consistency among the reports for the current survey. The 1998 data were also compared with the 1996 survey data. Differences in category totals more than 5 percent above or below the overall change were investigated to determine the cause of 1996 to 1998 changes.

SOURCES OF ERROR

Data Collection. Each quarter, all Federal agencies participating in the CPDF system update their agency files to document their employees' status. Timely file submission by the agencies may be prevented by the loss of automated input in transit to our agency or by system problems within the submitting agency.

To measure the completeness of agency employment reflected by the December 1998 Central Personnel Data File, the number of employee records by agency extracted for the survey was compared with the employment counts by agency (including all intermittents and excluding Commissioned Corps and foreign nationals employed overseas) from an independent reporting system, the Monthly Report of Federal Civilian Employment (SF 113-A system). Comparing the 1,760,795 CPDF records available for the survey against the 1,788,368 adjusted 113-A data for the same agencies yielded a 1.6 percent difference. This difference is due to the 27,452 seasonals not in the main survey, definitional differences (such as effective dates) between the CPDF and 113-A populations, and miscellaneous reporting errors and processing errors in both the CPDF and 113-A data collection systems.

Survey Processing Errors. All known errors in the edit programs, edit lookup tables, and report programs were corrected.

Excluded Records. The main survey excluded these employee records: 27,452 seasonal employees as of December 31, 1998 (other than the Department of Defense Education Activity).

Data Quality. A September 1994 CPDF Accuracy Survey estimated the percentage of valid (passes CPDF system edits) but inaccurate (differs from the Official Personnel Folder record) data contained in the CPDF. The following Table II shows Governmentwide estimates for the key data elements included in the Geographic Survey.

Table II: Data Element Error Rates
(September 1994 CPDF Accuracy Survey)

Data Element	Percentage Error
Agency	0.7
Pay Plan	0.7
Work Schedule	0.7
Location	0.0
Pay Status	0.0
U.S. Citizenship	0.0

The results of the most recent CPDF accuracy evaluation show the percentage of valid but inaccurate data is about 1 percent for agency (all errors in agency subelement), pay plan (used for assigning pay system category), and work schedule and zero percent for geographic location, pay status (used for extracting CPDF employees in pay status), and U.S. citizenship. The results of this evaluation cannot be directly applied to this Geographic Survey data because of timeframe and definitional differences in the survey populations; however, these presented results give an overall indication of the quality of the data in this publication. The quality of the non-CPDF data has not been measured.

Data Definition Changes. Appendix I covers the changes in definitions and coverage of agency, geographic location, and pay system since the previous survey; these changes can affect 1996 to 1998 data comparisons.

Redefinitions of a data element are a source of error that can be difficult to measure. New work schedule codes for seasonal employees were effective October 1981 and new work schedule codes for on-call employees were effective November 1985. Agencies had to identify these employees and submit work schedule code corrections for them. Furthermore, the agencies have to process personnel actions at the beginning and end of each work season to activate and de-activate seasonal employees; failure to do so is another potential source of error.
