

I do not support any broadcast flag laws, the HD Radio Content Protection Act, and the Analog Content Security Preservation Act. I'm also very unhappy about the DMCA. The DMCA is a flawed piece of legislation, in my opinion.

Fair Use has been a great boon to our society and fostered our society's rapid advancement, keeping the US not only competitive, but leading the way in markets across the globe. The proposed broadcast flag, the HD Radio Content Protection Act, and the Analog Content Security Preservation Act all masquerade as protecting copyright owners, but simply denying fair use rights to the public. The DMCA is doing similar harm to our society.