<mailto:debbie.thelen@ci.corvallis.or.us>

Registration: Register on-line or download your registration form today from www.sigsaueracademy.com or contact the SIG SAUER Academy Training Coordinator via phone at 603-418-8181.

Cost: $395

Location: Corvallis PD, 180 NW 5th St Corvallis, Oregon

Sponsor: Corvallis Police Department

Overview: The program content focuses on the mechanical functioning, maintenance, troubleshooting, and field repair of the SIG SAUER law enforcement classis pistol line, to include the P220, P226, P229, and P239 pistols. This is a hand's on program that teaches and guides each participant through all armorer operations, step by step with the instructor. Active participation in disassembly and assembly procedures coupled with question and answer periods provide the type of learning environment favorable for the retention of the material. Written and practical exams are administered to test the working knowledge of each participant. The curriculum enables law enforcement armorers to develop a pistol maintenance program on the inspection and servicing of the SIG SAUER law enforcement pistols for their departments. Following successful program completion, certification / re-certification to perform these procedures is valid for a period of three (3) years. This is of major importance to the agency as it maintains current practices and procedures for factory authorized maintenance on law enforcement pistols within the department.

Armorer Course Content: Firearms Safety, Design and Components, Field Stripping, Preventive Maintenance, Weapon Functions, Armorer Disassembly and Assembly, Troubleshooting, Sight Adjustments.

Instructors: Carrie and Rick Parks

Location: Chemeketa Brooks Regional Training Center, 4910 Brooklake Rd NE Salem, Oregon 97305

Target Audience: Law Enforcement

Sponsoring Agency: Salem Police Department, Stuart Parks Forensic Associates

Overview: NO ARTISTIC BACKGROUND NECESSARY! A composite drawing is not art in the traditional sense. It is a structured drawing based on the description of a victim or witness of a crime. The drawing ability of the composite artist, therefore, plays a role in the development of the drawing, but that role is rather small compared to the artist's ability to interview. A composite drawing is a drawing made up of separate and distinct components. Though we usually think of a composite as a drawing of a face, but a composite may be done of literally anything. When something can be described and there is no useful picture, a composite sketch may provide assistance in a case. From stolen jewelry and missing pets to custom trim on a car, the list is endless. In addition, composites may: Eliminate those suspects who do not look similar, Provide a lead on a case through recognition by others, May provide new information, Add additional information in the form of visual identification, Provide definitive proof of deception.

Prerequisite: IPTM's At-Scene Traffic Crash/Traffic Homicide Investigation course or its equivalent prior to attending this class.

Overview: Building upon the theories and techniques learned in IPTM's At-Scene Traffic Crash/Traffic Homicide Investigation course, this class will delve into the advanced concepts of traffic crash investigations. More complex vehicle dynamics like acceleration/deceleration, factor, rate and airborne situations will be explored. You will learn to estimate speeds from falls, vaults, and flips and the calculation of kinetic energy and linear momentum. You'll also learn to evaluate vehicle lamps, tires, and damage to help determine vehicle behaviors during the collision. Much of the coursework will be spent using acceleration/deceleration factors and perception/reaction times to determine time/distance relationships for colliding vehicles. Topics include:

- Speed estimates from kinetic energy, skidmarks, scuffmarks, and airborne situations
- Vehicle dynamics and motion
- Time, distance, and motion equations
- Conservation of momentum equations
- Center of mass calculation
- Vehicle damage analysis including thrust, overlap and collapse
- Vehicle lamp examination
- Tire damage evaluation
- Use of photographs, video recording and computer images
- Vector sum analysis

Instructors: Marcus Young & Brian Willis

Location: Willamette Falls Hospital-Education Building, 519 15th St., Oregon City, Oregon

Target Audience: police, corrections and military; especially trainers, FTO's and supervisors

Overview: Inspiring the Winning Mind and Warrior Spirit - This dynamic and interactive presentation will utilize a number of strategies including case studies and lessons from inside the prison walls to address critical issues in training and leading warriors. Marcus Young will also describe how developing the winning mind and warrior spirit enabled him to remain focused on the mission and win the fight during a violent encounter where he was shot multiple times by a violent gang member. The focus of the presentation will be to give trainers examples and tools they can take back and use with their officers to develop the winning mind and warrior spirit.

Excellence in Training - Inspiring excellence in the people we train should be the goal of every law enforcement trainer. This dynamic presentation will examine strategies that can be immediately implemented, at no cost to the agency, to inspire the pursuit of personal excellence in officers by enhancing both their competence and confidence. The topics and strategies addressed during the presentation include understanding how the mind works and exploring methods to harness it's power, the impact of language on mental programming, the influence of expectations on training outcomes, training with imagination and emotion, ideas on the use of video and conducting more effective debriefings, inoculation training - stress vs. context. Instructors: Marcus Young is a 20 year veteran of law enforcement. In 2007, he graduated from the University of San Francisco with a Master's degree in Counseling Psychology. Marcus serves his community and Mendocino College as the Director of Public Safety Programs. Brian Willis is a 25 year law enforcement veteran with over 18 years experience as a trainer. He is the president of the innovative training company Winning Mind Training. Brian has delivered performance enhancement and instructor development training to law enforcement trainers and agencies across North America.

Target Audience: Law Enforcement (Patrol and Detectives), Prosecutors, Death Investigators, CPS employees. There are a total of 60 spots available.

Sponsoring Agency: McMinnville Police Department

Instructors: Detective Mike Wells is a major crimes detective for the Corvallis Police Department, and was the lead detective in the Karly Sheehan murder. Jennifer Schindell is a medicolegal death investigator and forensic nurse for Linn and Benton Counties. She is an Oregon State Certified Medicolegal Death Investigator, and is an experienced teacher and consultant in fields of forensic photography and death investigations.

Overview: This class is designed for patrol officers, detectives, prosecutors, CPS employees and other persons involved in the protection of children. The first portion of the training will be presented by Detective Wells and will last roughly two hours. Detective Wells will review the investigation and prosecution of a "murder by abuse" case, including patrol response, investigative and organization methods used, obstacles faced, and lessons learned. The case involved the murder of 3 year old Karla "Karly" Sheehan by her mother's boyfriend, Shawn Wesley Field. Issues surrounding this case led to the passage of "Karly's Law" HB3328 during the last legislative session. Detective Wells will discuss the impact of the new laws, and how it applies to law enforcement investigations. The second portion of the training will be conducted by Jennifer Schindell who will cover forensic photography of the scene and body which will last roughly three hours. The goal of this section is to explain how written documentation and photo documentation can help or hurt, and what pictures to take of the Overview: This is a 5 day, 48 hour course that is a combination of the Enhanced Active Shooter Course, and the Active Shooter Team Leader Course. Upon completion, students will have the information and techniques necessary to plan and implement thorough, on-going training at their respective agencies. Course topics also include policy implementation and course development. The focus of this course is "what to teach" not "how to teach", so students must possess instructor certification(s) and be active instructors to be eligible to attend. AST instructors have been involved in the development and teaching of active shooter training programs since 2001. "We believe that we have developed a set of courses that are top to bottom, the most complete active shooter training programs available today. Our company only specializes in training for the active shooter mission, so all of our resources go to making that training the highest quality possible. We also maintain a very high instructor to student ratio, which creates a strong learning environment for student officers."

Sponsoring Agency: Region 5 Training Council

Overview: For the first time ever, veteran trainer, author, and law enforcement personality Dave Smith combines the very best elements of his most popular training courses to give each participant the necessary insight to WIN physically and emotionally throughout their law enforcement career.

Dave begins by providing the necessary insight into reaching the highest levels of human performance both physically and mentally to optimize the odds of winning any confrontation. He then explores the effect of routine on human performance and how a lowered perception of risk can increase our probability of taking greater, and potentially unnecessary, risks. Dave concludes by using the story of his alter ego, Officer J.D. "Buck" Savage, to provide an unforgettable lesson in leadership, persistence, and empowerment. This multi-media course will inform, entertain, and inspire everyone, regardless of rank, assignment, or experience, to be a winner, not just a survivor!

Target Audience: Law Enforcement Officers, Traffic Officers, Traffic Investigators, Traffic Unit Supervisors

Sponsoring Agency: Gresham Police Department

Prerequisite: Because of the highly technical subject matter, it is mandatory for you to have successfully completed IPTM's Advanced Traffic Crash Investigation (80 hours) course or its equivalent. Early application for this course is encouraged. Prior to the start of the course, study materials in basic mathematics and algebra will be sent to you. Please review these materials before coming to class.

Overview: Traffic Crash Reconstruction builds upon IPTM's Advanced Traffic Crash Investigation course by assisting you further in understanding vehicle dynamics. You will take part in a more intense study of time/distance calculations, angular momentum and impact speed calculations using momentum equations. Topics include: Derivation and origin of the commonly used speed formulas, Speed of vehicles at impact using conservation of linear momentum, Behavior of vehicles in a collision using Newton's three laws of motion, Discussions of commercial vehicle and motorcycle dynamics in collisions, The determination of direction of travel, initial contact and position of vehicles on the roadway. This course includes extensive project work and controlled vehicle experiments to give you first hand experience in crash reconstruction. Each student will be required to diagram and analyze three different crash scenarios as well as complete vector sum analysis of each.

Target Audience: Law Enforcement

Sponsor: Jackson County Sheriffs Office

Overview: Forensic Statement Analysis is a new technology for obtaining copious amounts of information from suspects and uncooperative victims and witnesses. With this technique the investigator will be able to "decode" hidden meanings in statements as well as identify locations of missing information within the subject's story. A by-product of this is to be able to detect deception using an indirect interrogation technique that is designed to stimulate confessions from the guilty. What you will learn: The most accurate way to get information from victims, witnesses, and suspects. What questions to ask in a follow up interview, How to ask questions that will lead to truthful answers, What themes to use during the interrogation, What alternatives to consider for the interrogation, How to identify the motive for the crime, and Where information is missing from the statement.
