Reduced Production by Foreign Competitors Drives U.S. Exports

Foreign Production - Major Exporters MY 1996/97 - MY 2000/01

Million 480-lb bales

This month's production estimate for the major cotton exporting countries is the lowest since 1996/97. Compared with last year, lower area in the African Franc Zone, Greece, and Syria, and lower yields in the Former Soviet Union, are anticipated to reduce production significantly. Only Australia is expected to raise production, due mainly to favorable prices. These countries collectively accounted for an average of 66 percent of the world's total exports during the past five years. Reduced competitor export supplies are a major factor boosting the estimated U.S. share of world trade to 28.7 percent, well above the previous 5-year average of about 25 percent. This month's U.S. export estimate for MY 2000/2001, remains at 7.6 million bales.

U.S. COTTON OUTLOOK

Changes to this month's 2000/01 U.S. estimates include lower domestic mill use and higher ending stocks. Production is virtually unchanged. Domestic mill use is reduced 100,000 bales to 10.0 million bales because of mill closures, reflecting a loss of market share to textile imports. The export estimate is unchanged. Ending stocks are pegged at 3.9 million bales, up 100,000 from last month and 22.2 percent of total use.

WORLD COTTON OUTLOOK

The 2000/2001 world production and consumption estimates also are trimmed slightly this month. Production is reduced mainly in Uzbekistan, and consumption mainly in Russia and the United States. World trade and stocks are about unchanged from last month.

COTTON PRICES

Cotlook A Index: The A-Index, a principal measure of international cotton prices, is an average of the five lowest quotes of cotton for delivery to Northern European ports. During October, quotes of Greek, Uzbekistan, Africa 'Franc Zone', Syria, and Pakistan were included in the Index. The Index averaged 60.90 cents per pound during the period, a 0.75-cent decrease from September's 61.65 cents per pound average. The inclusion of the lower-priced Pakistani quote in the composition attributed to this month's average price decrease. The Pakistani quote was the lowest in the Index over the four-week period, averaging 59.62 cents per pound. On Thursday, November 9, the A-Index was 63.70 per pound, an increase of 2.65 cents from last month's close of 61.05 cents per pound. The increase in price indicates a rise in global world cotton demand.

Futures Prices: A bearish market resulted in nearby December futures prices in October, averaging 63.30 cents per pound, down 4.52 cents, from a high price of 67.82 cents per pound in September. The decrease in price was due to weak demand conditions uncertainty about certificated stocks. On Thursday, November 9, the December 2000 contract settled at 64.96 cents per pound, an increase of 1.66 cents from the previous month's average. The March 2001 contract settled at 67.49 cents per pound, an increase of 1.29 cents from the previous month.

U.S. COTTON HIGHLIGHTS

Cotton Consumption: The seasonally adjusted daily rate of U.S. cotton consumption in September to 37,723 (480-lb.) bales, compared with August's level of 38,500 bales. A total of 964,354 bales were consumed during the five weeks in September, compared with 795,816 bales in August (four weeks). The seasonally adjusted annualized consumption rate for the month of September was 9.85 million bales, down from August's 10.05 million bales.

Domestic mills purchased a very light volume of cotton for first quarter 2001 to third quarter 2001 delivery. Most purchases were color 42 and lower, leaf 4 and better, staple 33 and shorter, mike 35-51, and strength 26 and higher for March to July 2001 delivery. Interest was weak for color 41 and better, leaf 4 and better, staple 34 and longer, mike 35-47, strength 26 and higher. Most mills have covered their anticipated needs, and are waiting for additional sales to make additional purchases. Mills continued the process of switching from 1999-crop to 2000-crop cotton. Interest in ring spun yarns remains good while interest in open-end yarns was very light. Demand for fine count yarns was good, while demand for coarse count yarns was very light. Sales of domestic denim fabrics, greige cloth, sales yarn, upholstery, print cloth and industrial fabrics were light to moderate; mills sales of specialty yarn were very light. Most mills continued to operate on a six-day work week.

Cotton Stocks: U.S. cotton stocks on hand in consuming establishments at the end of September totaled 486,985 bales (480-lb), down from 503,596 in August. Stocks held in public storage and compresses in September totaled 4.25 million bales, up from 3.07 million bales in August. Active spindles in September totaled 4.37 million, of which 2.39 million were dedicated to 100 percent cotton, compared with 4.59 million for the same month last year, with 2.44 million dedicated to 100 percent cotton. Cotton's share on the cotton spindle system was 79.3 percent in September.

U.S. cotton exports in August 2000 totaled 430,000 (480-lb.) bales, 49,000 bales below July 2000 exports of 479,000 bales and 176,000 bales above August 1999 exports of 254,000 bales, according to the U.S. Bureau of the Census. The leading markets in August were Mexico, Indonesia, Japan, Canada, Turkey, Hong Kong, Korea and China.

U.S. cotton imports in August 2000 totaled about 1,400 bales, 300 bales below July 2000 imports of 1,700 (480-lb.) bales, and 35,200 bales less than August 1999 imports of 36,600 bales. The major suppliers in August 2000 were Egypt and Turkey, with very modest imports from Barbados and Mexico.

* Loss for countries outside of the United States reflects cotton lost or destroyed while in the marketing channel. For the United States, loss reflects the difference between stocks as reported by the Bureau of the Census and implicit stocks based on supply plus total use. A negative "loss" is a positive number.

Special Report

WORLD COTTON STATISTICS

Special Supplement to the November 1999 Edition of Cotton: World Markets and Trade
(MY 1991/92- 2000/2001)

This supplement presents the Foreign Agricultural Service's (FAS) database for world cotton area, yield, production, trade, and utilization for the marketing year 1991/92 through 2000/2001. The information in this supplement presents statistical totals for each individual country.

The database contains 119 countries. U.S. agricultural counselors and attachés report regularly on 37 of the major cotton producing and/or consuming countries. Official statistics, trade journals, U.S. embassy reports, and data compiled by various international agencies serve as the primary basis for data covering the remaining countries. The statistics presented here are current as of November 9, 2000. Data in this section for marketing year 2000/2001 should be regarded as preliminary. Marketing years refer to an August-July time frame. For example, MY 1996/97 begins August 1, 1996 and ends July 31, 1997. All bales are 480-pounds net weight.
