Exploring the USGS "Virtual Earth Science Library"

*by Jim Turner,
Geographic Sciences
Laboratory Manager,
National Applied Resource
Sciences Center (NARSC)*

The U.S. Geological Survey (USGS) maintains a virtual earth science library of digital information, publications, and data. Their Internet World Wide Web sites offer an array of information that reflects scientific research and monitoring programs conducted in the areas of natural hazards, environmental resources, and cartography.

The following listing provides gateways to access a cross section of the digital information on the USGS World Wide Web sites. The listing is not intended to be either comprehensive or exhaustive in scope. Rather, the sites should be viewed as starting points for exploring the vast store house of information maintained by the USGS.

RESOURCE NOTES are intended to be early announcements of technical and informational topics for Bureau of Land Management personnel and some of their customers.

Information in this RESOURCE NOTE is based on the opinion and experience of the author and has not been peer-reviewed. Conclusions and opinions expressed herein do not necessarily represent those of BLM.

Use of trade names does not imply U.S. Government endorsement of commercial products.

If you have received a copy of or found out about RESOURCE NOTES in an indirect way and would like to be included in future mailings, please send the following:

NAME, TITLE, MAILING ADDRESS
and a list of the two or three subject areas that you are most interested in or that most directly relate to your job.

Send this information to

Phil Dittberner,
BLM, RS-140,
P.O. Box 25047,
Denver, CO. 80225-0047
or phil_dittberner@blm.gov or FAX 303-236-3508.

If you would like to prepare a RESOURCE NOTE for distribution, or you have an idea and author in mind for a good RESOURCE NOTE, please contact Phil Dittberner at 303-236-1833, FAX 303-236-3508 or phil_dittberner@blm.gov with the topic and the name of writer, including an address, phone number, and e-mail address.
