

Fed Chairman Greenspan Warns Again of Long-Term Danger of Current Fiscal Course

“The...relatively optimistic short-term outlook for the U.S. economy is playing out against a backdrop of growing longer-term concern in financial markets about our federal budget.”

– Federal Reserve Chairman Alan Greenspan
Videoconference Speech to Securities
Industry Association
November 6, 2003