Exchange rate: US$1.00 equals 18.33 córdobas.

Old Age, Disability, and Survivors

Regulatory Framework

First law and current law: 1955 (social security), with 2005 amendment.

Type of program: Social insurance system.

Coverage

All persons receiving remuneration for work or services rendered.

Voluntary coverage for self-employed persons, workers who were previously covered by the program, clergy, employers, and unpaid family members working for family-owned companies.

Exclusions: Seasonal agricultural workers, armed forces personnel, and domestic workers.

Noncontributory system for miners, indigents, those who have performed services for the country, and war victims.

Source of Funds

Insured person: 4% of covered earnings.

The minimum earnings for contribution purposes are equal to the minimum wage.

The maximum earnings for contribution purposes are 35,525 córdobas.

The insured's contributions also finance family allowances.

Self-employed person: Voluntary contributions of either 10% of declared earnings (old-age, disability, and survivor benefits and dependent supplements) or 18.25% of declared earnings (old-age, disability, and survivor benefits and dependent supplements; sickness and maternity benefits; and family allowances).

The maximum earnings for contribution purposes are 35,525 córdobas.

Employer: 6% of covered payroll.

The minimum earnings for contribution purposes are equal to the minimum wage.

The maximum earnings for contribution purposes are 35,525 córdobas.

The employer's contributions also finance family allowances.

Government: Subsidizes benefits for voluntarily covered self-employed persons.

The Nicaraguan Institute of Social Security finances any deficit for the provision of war pensions and special pensions (see source of funds under Work Injury, below).

Qualifying Conditions

Old-age pension: Age 60 (age 55 for persons with a certified physical or mental disability) with 750 weeks of contributions. Qualifying conditions are reduced for those who joined the social insurance system after age 45, with contributions required only for half the number of weeks from the date coverage began until the pensionable age.

Age 60 years with 15 years of contributions for self-employed persons. Age 55 for miners and teachers with 30 years of service (men) or 15 years of service (women).

A working pensioner may receive a pension and a salary but must pay contributions to the program.

Old-age pensions are not payable abroad.

Disability pension: The insured must be assessed with a loss of 67% of earning capacity in the usual or a similar occupation (total disability) and have at least 150 weeks of contributions in the last 6 years; for the loss of at least 50% but less than 67% of usual earning capacity (partial disability), with at least 150 weeks of contributions in the last 6 years.

The disability pension is replaced by the old-age pension at age 60. If the insured is ineligible for the old-age pension, a partial disability pension is increased to the value of the total disability benefit at age 60 on the condition that the beneficiary retires from all gainful employment.

The assessed loss of earning capacity is reviewed every 3 years.

Disability pensions are not payable abroad.

Survivor pension: The deceased had at least 150 weeks of contributions in the last 6 years.

Eligible survivors include a widow or a dependent disabled widower and orphans.

Survivor pensions are not payable abroad.

Funeral grant: The deceased had at least 4 weeks of contributions in the 26 weeks before death.

Noncontributory pension: War victims' pensions are paid to persons who have never contributed to the social insurance system but who have performed services for the country; special pensions are paid to other groups, including indigent persons, miners, and public servants.

Old-Age Benefits

Old-age pension: The pension is equal to 40% of the insured's average earnings (45% if average earnings are less than twice the minimum wage), plus 1.365% (1.59% if average earnings are less than twice the minimum wage) for each additional 50-week period of contributions exceeding 150 weeks. An additional 1% of earnings is paid for each year of work after age 60, up to a maximum of 5%.

The insured's average earnings are equal to the average of the insured's last 250 weeks of contributions (or the 250 weeks before the last 250 weeks if earnings were higher) times 4 1/13.

For insured persons with at least 1,000 weeks of contributions but less than 1,250 weeks of contributions, the insured's average earnings may be calculated on the basis of the average of the insured's last 200 weeks of contributions times 4 1/13; with at least 1,250 weeks of contributions, the average of the last 150 weeks of contributions times 4 1/13.

Dependent's supplement: 15% of the old-age pension is paid for a wife or partner; 10% each for children younger than age 15 (age 21 if student, no limit if disabled); and 10% for uninsured parents older than age 60 or disabled.

The minimum monthly benefit is 1,032.70 córdobas.

The maximum monthly pension is 80% of average earnings if the insured's average earnings are more than twice the minimum wage; 100% if the insured's average earnings are less than twice the minimum wage.

Schedule of payments: Benefits are paid monthly, with an additional payment made each Christmas.

Benefit adjustment: Benefits are adjusted periodically for wage changes, depending on national economic conditions.

Noncontributory pension: War victims' pensions and special pensions are provided.

Permanent Disability Benefits

Disability pension: The pension is equal to 40% of the insured's average earnings (45% if average earnings are less than twice the minimum wage), plus 1.365% (1.59% if average earnings are less than twice the minimum wage) for each additional 50-week period of contributions exceeding 150 weeks.

The insured's average earnings are equal to the average of the insured's last 250 weeks of contributions before the disability began (or the 250 weeks before the last 250 weeks if earnings were higher) times 4 1/13.

For insured persons with at least 1,000 weeks of contributions but less than 1,250 weeks of contributions, the insured's average earnings may be calculated on the basis of the average of the insured's last 200 weeks of contributions before the disability began times 4 1/13; with at least 1,250 weeks of contributions, the average of the last 150 weeks of contributions before the disability began times 4 1/13.

If the insured has a spouse and children, the total disability pension must not be less than 50% of the insured's average earnings.

Constant-attendance allowance: Equal to 20% of the total disability pension.

Dependent's supplement (total disability): 15% of the pension is paid for a wife or partner; 10% each for children younger than age 15 (age 21 if student, no limit if disabled); and 10% for uninsured parents older than age 60 or disabled.

Partial disability: Equal to 50% of the total disability pension.

The maximum partial disability pension must be higher than 33% but less than 50% of the minimum wage in the insured's occupation.

Schedule of payments: Benefits are paid monthly, with an additional payment made each Christmas.

Benefit adjustment: Benefits are adjusted periodically for wage changes, depending on national economic conditions.

Noncontributory pension: War victims' pensions and special pensions are provided for total and partial disability.

Survivor Benefits

Survivor pension: 50% of the deceased's pension is paid to a widow aged 45 or older or disabled or to a dependent disabled widower. A pension is paid to a widow younger than age 45 for a limited period of 2 years or for as long as she is caring for a child receiving an orphan's pension.

Orphan's pension: Each orphan younger than age 15 (age 21 if a student, no limit if disabled) receives 25% of the deceased's pension; 50% for a full orphan.

The maximum survivor pension payable to a widow(er) with two or more children must not exceed 100% of the deceased's pension.

Funeral grant: The cost of the funeral or an amount equal to 50% of the deceased's monthly wage is paid.

Benefit adjustment: Benefits are adjusted periodically for wage changes, depending on national economic conditions.

Noncontributory pension: War victims' pensions and special pensions are provided for spouses, orphans, and dependent parents.

Administrative Organization

Managed by technical and managing councils, the Nicaraguan Institute of Social Security (<http://www.inss.org.ni>) administers the program.
