INFORMATION

- Mandated under the 1990 Amendments to the Clean Air Act
- Considering issues related to how human health risk assessments are performed and, most importantly, how the results of human health risk assessments are used in regulatory decision-making
- Focussing on the five aspects of our mandate:
 - * uses and limitations of risk assessment in decision-making
 - * appropriate exposure scenarios
 - * uncertainty and risk communication
 - * risk management policy issues
 - * consistency across agencies
- Also considering the 1994 National Research Council report, Science and Judgment in Risk Assessment
- Meeting monthly since May 1994; reporting to Congress in March and September 1996
