

Program Highlights 2007

EducationUSA Weekly Update – Reaches Ireland and 170 Countries

The new “EducationUSA Weekly Update” is circulated to 170 countries. Each week, EducationUSA features 5-7 accredited schools by focusing on scholarships and new programs. US institutions may send two paragraphs of content related to scholarships or new programs to educationUSA@state.gov. Add “EducationUSA Weekly Update content” in the subject line and staff will circulate your update to 450 centers via the weekly newsletter free of charge.

US Embassy, Dublin

Key EducationUSA Partners

- ▶ Fulbright Commission in Ireland
- ▶ Universities, high schools, and other educational institutions/organizations in Ireland

Country Statistics	2006	2007
Number of students in the US:	1,100	1,081
Total number of center inquiries:	8,720	9,300

Ireland

Advising Center Network

The EducationUSA Advising Center of the US Embassy in Dublin provides virtual services and coordinates and supports the advising activities of regional centers based at the University of Cork, University College Belfield, University of Galway, University of Limerick, and the National University of Maynooth.

The EducationUSA adviser at the US Embassy in Dublin operates an extensive and very successful outreach program, collaborating regularly with advisers at colleges, universities, and second-level schools.

Recent Trends: US Study ▼ -1.7%

Student enrollments from Ireland in the US have been in modest decline (down 1.7% compared to 2006).

Resource Links

US Embassy, Dublin, Ireland: http://dublin.usembassy.gov/educational_exchange.html
 Fulbright Commission, Ireland: www.fulbright.ie
 Department of Education and Science: www.education.ie
 The Higher Education Authority (HEA): www.hea.ie

Education System Overview

	Secondary Education	Higher Education (Bachelor’s Degree)
Language of instruction:	English	English
Years of study required:		3 or 4 years (longer for specific fields of study such as medicine or architecture)

Partnering with EducationUSA Ireland

US international education experts are welcome to contact the educational advisers in Ireland to discuss their involvement in upcoming EducationUSA events and outreach efforts.

Country Contact

Margot COLLINS, Educational Adviser
 US Embassy, Office of Public Diplomacy
 E-mail: edudublin@state.gov