

Dairy Products

Dairy products are not currently eligible for import to Kazakhstan from the United States. Kazakhstan requires significant public health attestations for dairy products for human consumption. Requirements are currently under negotiation. The USDA Agriculture Marketing Service (AMS) – Dairy Standardization Branch will be certifying authority for these products if agreement is reached on certification language.