Joint Automated Booking System.—The Joint Automated Booking System (JABS) performs three major functions: (1) facilitates rapid identification of individuals under arrest or detention through automation of the booking process and an interface with the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) fingerprint identification system; (2) minimizes duplication of data entry by multiple law enforcement agencies during the booking process, and; (3) promotes data sharing of arrest records among JABS participants and other interested parties. When implemented, JABS will provide a rapid conduit to the FBI for offender identification and a current, nationwide reference for criminal offenders, arrests, cases and related data to aid in criminal investigations and prosecutions.

IDENT/IAFIS Integration.—The Automated Biometric Identification System/Integrated Automated Fingerprint Identification System (IDENT/IAFIS) integration project is designed to support the apprehension and prosecution of criminal aliens and to provide state and local law enforcement personnel with direct access to Border and Transportation

Security (BTS) data through IAFIS. With a real-time connection between the two systems, IDENT/IAFIS integration will provide BTS the capability to determine whether an apprehended person is the subject of a currently posted Want/Warrant or has a record in the FBI's-Criminal Master File. Collaterally, the integration of IDENT and IAFIS will enable cognizant law enforcement agencies to obtain all relevant immigration information as part of a criminal history response from a single FBI search request. IDENT/IAFIS integration is proceeding in an incremental manner with a careful attention to the technical aspects as well as the programmatic and operational effects associated with the project before initiating the full scale development and implementation of the integrated system.

Resources are proposed to provide funding for the Department of Justice conversion of its wireless radio communications to narrowband operations. Federal Government agencies are required by 47 U.S.C. 903(d)(1) to make more efficient use of their radio spectrum. The National Telecommunications and Information Administration's implementing regulations require that all Federal spectrum users narrow, by one-half, the bandwidth used to transmit radio signals by the year 2005 for Very High Frequency (VHF) allocations and 2008 for Ultra High Frequency (UHF) allocations. The Department's 2005 budget continues the implementation of the Integrated Wireless Network (IWN), a joint initiative with the Departments of Treasury and Homeland Security. Requested resources will be allocated to support Justice components' existing legacy land mobile radio systems; support IWN operations and maintenance requirements; invest in new narrowband infrastructure and subscriber equipment; and support management and operating requirements of the Joint Wireless Program Management Office.

The Communications Assistance for Law Enforcement Act (CALEA) of 1994 authorizes the Attorney General to reimburse telecommunications carriers for costs associated with modifying digital equipment installed before January 1, 1995, in order that court-authorized wiretaps may be performed.

The Omnibus Consolidated Appropriations Act of 1997 (P.L. 104–208) extended eligibility for reimbursement to telecommunications equipment manufacturers and providers of support services. In addition to direct appropriations to the Fund, Congress authorized Federal agencies with law enforcement and intelligence responsibilities to transfer to the Fund unobligated balances that are available until expended, upon compliance with Congressional notification requirements.

With the appropriations provided in 2001, total funding for the program has reached $500 million, the authorization level provided in the Act.

The Detention Trustee reports to the Deputy Attorney General and is responsible for the centralized management of the Department detention resource allocations, to include the Cooperative Agreement Program, exercising financial oversight of detention operations, and ensuring the implementation of efficiency and effectiveness improvements in Department detention operations.

For 2005, the Detention Trustee will continue to work with state governments, local governments, and private service providers to maintain adequate detention capacity to house detained individuals charged with federal offenses, detained while awaiting trial or sentencing, a hearing on their immigration status, or deportation. Based on anticipated growth rates in the federal detainee population, during 2004/2005 the number of detainees in state, local, and private prisons is expected to represent approximately 77 percent of the federally detained population. These working relationships, with State, local, and private prison providers are paramount to carrying out the function of detention and also save on costly capital development of federal facilities.

In view of this anticipated growth, and the current excess of state, local and private prison bed space, DOJ has formed a special working group to evaluate such opportunities. This working group consists of representatives from the Office of the Federal Detention Trustee (OFDT), Border and Transportation Security, the United States Marshal Service (USMS), and the Federal Bureau of Prisons (BOP). OFDT serves as the lead. The group's principal objective is to ensure that excess State and local prison facilities are fairly and thoroughly evaluated and consistent standards are employed in these evaluations. The working group considers the location of the facility, size and security level (including flexibility in security level), assesses short-term and long-term bed space requirements, and the amount and status of bed space already available in the vicinity of the facility being reviewed.

The National Clearinghouse for Detention Space, which serves as a national repository for state and local governments and private detention bed space providers to electronically post vacancies rates, services, administrative costs, availability and mode of transport and medical services, will assist the working group in quickly and easily identifying available detention bed space.

In 2003, OFDT completed two regional detention pilot projects, one in the Midwest and one along the Southwest border, for process improvements in the areas of consolidation and oversight of federal detention. In 2004, successful common elements of the pilot projects are being implemented by OFDT in other areas of the country.

The Office of the Inspector General (OIG) was statutorily established in the Department of Justice on April 14, 1989. The OIG investigates alleged violations of criminal and civil laws, regulations, and ethical standards arising from the conduct of the Department's employees. The OIG provides leadership and assists management in promoting integrity, economy, efficiency, and effectiveness within the Department and in its financial, contractual, and grant relationships with others. Also by statute, the OIG reports to the Attorney General, Congress, and the public on a semiannual basis regarding its significant activities.

The Audit function is responsible for independent audits and reviews of Department organizations, programs, functions, computer security and information technology systems, and financial statement audits. The Audit function also conducts or reviews external audits of expenditures made under Department contracts, grants, and other agreements.

The Investigations function investigates allegations of civil rights violations, bribery, fraud, abuse and violations of other laws, rules and procedures that govern Department employees, contractors, and grantees. This function also develops these cases for criminal prosecution, civil action, or administrative action. In some instances the OIG refers allegations to components within the Department and requests notification of their findings and of any disciplinary action taken.

The Evaluation and Inspections function conducts analyses and makes recommendations to decision makers for improvements in Department programs, policies, and procedures. In addition, this function also conducts shorter and more time-sensitive reviews and evaluations to provide managers with early warnings about possible program deficiencies.

The Oversight and Review function investigates allegations of significant interest to the American public and Congress and of vital importance to the Department.

The Executive Direction and Control function provides program direction for the OIG. Responsibilities include policy development, legal counsel, Congressional affairs, planning, budget, finance, personnel, procurement, automated data processing, and general support services.

The United States Parole Commission makes decisions to grant or deny parole to Federal and D.C. Code prisoners serving sentences of one year and a day or more, sets conditions of parole, supervises parolees and mandatory releasees, recommitments parolees in the event of violations of the conditions of supervision, and determines the termination of supervision in accordance with the Parole Commission and Reorganization Act of 1976.

In addition, the Commission seeks to improve the rehabilitation process by monitoring an effective parole supervision program through U.S. and District of Columbia probation officers and through research studies that evaluate the effectiveness of parole programs. The U.S. Parole Commission has responsibility for parole and parole revocation hearings and supervision of District of Columbia parolees and supervised releases under the National Capital Revitalization and Self-Government Improvement Act (P.L. 105-33).

The Federal Government is represented in each of the 94 judicial districts and the District of Columbia Superior Court by a U.S. Marshal. The primary missions of the U.S. Marshals Service are protection of the Federal judiciary, protection of witnesses, execution of warrants and court orders, and custody and transportation of unsentenced prisoners. It is the principal support force in the Federal judicial system and an integral part of the Federal law enforcement community.

Reimbursable program.—Federal funds in 2005 are derived primarily from the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts for the court security program, the Office of the Detention Trustee for the housing of USMS prisoners in non-federal facilities, the Assets Forfeiture Fund for seized assets management, the Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force Program for multi-agency drug investigations, the U.S. Air Force for the Intercontinental Ballistic Missile Program for transportation security services provided by the U.S. Marshals Service, and the Office of National Drug Control Policy and the Centers for Disease Control for security services. Non-Federal funds are derived from State and local governments for witness protection and for the transportation of prisoners pursuant to State writs and from fees collected from service of civil process and sales associated with judicial orders.

United States trustee system fund.—The United States trustees supervise the administration of bankruptcy cases and private trustees in the Federal Bankruptcy Courts. The Bankruptcy Judges, U.S. Trustees and Family Farmer Bankruptcy Act of 1986 (Public Law 99-554) expanded the pilot trustee program to a twenty-one region, nationwide program encompassing 88 judicial districts. This program collects user fees assessed against debtors, which offset the annual appropriation.

The Comprehensive Crime Control Act of 1984 established the Assets Forfeiture Fund, into which forfeited cash and the proceeds of sales of forfeited property are deposited. Authorities of the fund have been amended by various public laws enacted since 1984. Under current law, authority to use the fund for certain investigative expenses shall be specified in annual appropriation acts. Expenses necessary to seize, detain, inventory, safeguard, maintain, advertise or sell property under seizure are funded through a permanent, indefinite appropriation. In addition, beginning in 1993, other general expenses of managing and operating the asset forfeiture program are paid from the permanent, indefinite portion of the fund. Once all expenses are covered, and statutorily mandated transfers are accomplished, the balance is maintained to meet ongoing expenses of the program. Excess unobligated balances may also be allocated by the Attorney General in accordance with 28 U.S.C. 524(c)(8)(E). This budget submission reflects the consolidation of the Treasury and Justice Forfeiture Funds within the Department of Justice in 2005. Proposed legislation to effect this consolidation will follow.

This appropriation provides reimbursements to agencies within the Department of Justice, Department of Treasury, and Department of Homeland Security that participate in the Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force (OCDETF) Program. The OCDETF Program consists of a nationwide structure of nine regional task forces that combine the resources and expertise of its nine member Federal agencies, in cooperation with State and local investigators and prosecutors, to target and destroy major narcotic trafficking and money-laundering organizations. The task forces perform the following activities:

1. Investigation.—This activity includes the resources for direct investigative intelligence and support activities of the task forces, focusing on the disruption and dismantlement of drug trafficking and money laundering organizations by various organized crime enterprises. Organizations participating under the law enforcement function are the Drug Enforcement Administration, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Internal Revenue Service, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives, U.S. Coast Guard, U.S. Marshals Service, and the U.S. Bureau of Immigration and Customs Enforcement.

2. Prosecution.—This activity includes the resources for the prosecution of cases generated through the investigative efforts of task force agents. Litigation efforts are targeted selectively on the criminal leadership involved in drug trafficking and are intended to dissolve organized illicit enterprises. This includes activities designed to secure the seizure and forfeiture of the assets of these enterprises. Participating agencies are the U.S. Attorneys, Criminal Division and Tax Division.

The planned distribution of obligations for 2004 and 2005 among the participating Federal agencies, as well as the actual distribution for 2003, is as follows:

WORKLOAD

	2003 actual	2004 est.
Investigations	703	600
Consolidated Priority Targets (CPOT)	53	40
OCDETF Investigations connected to CPOT	424	450

At the request of the Attorney General, the OCDETF member agencies, working together with input from the intelligence community, developed the Consolidated Priority Organization Target (CPOT) List, which identifies the most significant international drug trafficking, and money laundering organizations responsible for the largest drug supply to the United States. For FY 2004, the CPOT contains 40 international targets. OCDETF has identified 428 current OCDETF investigations that are targeting components of the CPOT-listed organizations. The focus on CPOT-linked investigations is one of many steps taken by the OCDETF Program to enhance and expand its investigations across the United States. The CPOT strategy seeks to incapacitate the foreign-based organization heads, their domestic transportation and smuggling systems, their regional and local distribution networks, and their financial operations, thereby interrupting the flow of drugs into the United States and diminishing the capacity of the CPOT organization to reconstitute itself. This effort seeks to ensure that OCDETF funding is being used as effectively and efficiently as possible.

As OCDETF renewed its focus on the higher-level targets and investigations, the total OCDETF cases initiated decreased by 22 percent (902 to 703) between FY 2002 and FY 2003. This occurred because OCDETF resources are being concentrated on more sophisticated, more long-term and resource-intensive investigations, thereby reducing the number of investigations that are undertaken. The decrease is also attributed to the overall reduction in drug enforcement resources available to OCDETF member agencies. During FY 2004, it is projected that OCDETF case initiations may continue to decrease. However, this decrease in cases initiated will be indicative of our continued emphasis on "quality investigations" rather than on the quantity of investigations.

The mission of the FBI is to protect the United States from terrorist and foreign intelligence activities; to uphold the law through the investigation of violations of Federal criminal law; to provide leadership and assistance to Federal, state, local and international law enforcement agencies; and to perform these responsibilities in a manner that is responsive to the needs of the public and is faithful to the Constitution of the United States.

Protecting America in the current challenging national security and criminal environment requires that the FBI refocus its priorities; realign its workforce to address these priorities; and improve management policies and operating procedures to enhance flexibility, agility, effectiveness, and accountability. The FBI's revised strategic priorities are in order:

- Protect the United States from terrorist attack.
- Protect the United States against foreign intelligence operations and espionage.
- Protect the United States against cyber-based attacks and high technology crimes.
- Combat public corruption at all levels of government.
- Protect civil rights.
- Combat transnational and national criminal organizations and enterprises.
- Combat major white-collar crime.
- Combat significant violent crime.
- Support federal, state, county, municipal, and international partners.
- Upgrade technology to successfully perform the FBI's mission.

FBI investigations and operations are conducted through a network of 56 major field offices, over 400 smaller field offices (resident agencies), and 4 information technology centers located throughout the United States and Puerto Rico; the FBI Academy and engineering complex at Quantico, Virginia; a fingerprint identification and criminal justice information services center in Clarksburg, West Virginia; 45 foreign liaison posts; and FBI Headquarters in Washington, D.C.

A number of FBI activities are carried out on a reimbursable basis. Since 1997, the FBI has been reimbursed for investigations of health care fraud and abuse as provided by the Health Care Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (P.L. 104-191). Additionally, the FBI is reimbursed for its participation in Interagency Crime and Drug Enforcement programs and by other Federal agencies for certain investigative services, such as pre-employment background inquiries and fingerprint and name checks. The FBI also is authorized to conduct fingerprint and name checks for certain non-federal agencies.

For FY 2005, $409 million in enhancements are proposed. These enhancements support operations, information technology, security, and infrastructure needs. Highlights of these initiatives include: (1) enhanced counterterrorism capabilities; (2) enhanced counterintelligence programs; (3) enhanced capability for cyber crimes investigations; (4) improved security for FBI personnel, facilities, and information; and (5) improved information technology. The cost of enhancements are partially offset by $84 million in program improvements.

The budget presentation reflects two proposals that are central to the FBI's efforts to effectively and efficiently achieve its new priorities:

- A budget structure that has been reduced from 10 program areas to 4 major functions—Counterterrorism, National Security, Criminal Enterprises/Federal Crimes, and Criminal Justice Services.
- The allocation to these 4 programs includes a share of the cost of information technology, laboratory services, executive management, and other activities that support multiple programs.

These two proposals will provide several benefits:

- The FBI, Congress, and the public will be better informed of the full cost of critical FBI activities, such as combating terrorism.
 - Strategic planning will be facilitated by focusing on a limited number of core programs, and by having improved budget data for decision making.
 - The FBI's ability to develop meaningful performance measures and to link performance to costs will be enhanced.
- These proposals are consistent with the President's Management Agenda, which seeks to integrate more completely information about costs and performance.

DEA's mission is to enforce the controlled substances laws and regulations of the United States, and to bring to the criminal and civil justice system of the United States, or any other competent jurisdiction, those organizations and principal members of organizations involved in the growing, manufacturing and/or distribution of controlled substances appearing in or destined for illicit traffic in the United States; and to support non-enforcement programs aimed at reducing the availability of illicit controlled substances on the domestic and international markets. DEA's major focus is the disruption or dismantlement of Priority Target Organizations (PTOs)—drug supply and money laundering organizations operating at the international, national, regional, and local levels having a significant impact upon drug availability in America. In addition, DEA emphasizes PTOs with links to organizations on the Attorney General's Consolidated Priority Organization Target (CPOT) list, which represents the "Most Wanted" drug supply and money laundering organizations believed to be primarily responsible for the United States' illicit drug supply.

In 2005, DEA is requesting to combine its current decision units under Salaries and Expenses to reduce the number from 10 to three. Domestic Enforcement, International Enforcement, and State and Local Assistance. The decision unit consolidation will allow DEA to better align its resources with strategic plan goals and financial reporting categories, and improve managerial flexibility, while retaining detailed reporting capability. In addition, in 2005, DEA has merged the Construction account into its Salaries and Expenses account.

DEA's activities are divided into three main categories:

Enforcement—

Domestic Enforcement. Through effective enforcement efforts and associated support functions, DEA disrupts and dismantles the leadership, command, control, and infrastructure of major drug syndicates, criminal organizations, and violent drug trafficking groups that threaten the United States. This activity contains most of DEA's resources, including domestic enforcement groups, state and local task forces, other funded federal and local task forces, intelligence and diversion control groups, and all the support functions essential to accomplishing their mission. Strategic objectives have been established to:

- Identify and target the national/regional organizations most responsible for the domestic distribution and manufacture of illicit drugs and diversion of licit drugs and chemicals;
- Systematically disrupt or dismantle targeted organizations by arresting/convicting their leaders and facilitators, seizing and forfeiting their assets, targeting their money laundering operations, and destroying their command and control networks; and,
- Work with international offices to dismantle domestic organizations directly affiliated with international cartels. International Enforcement. DEA works with its foreign counterparts to attack the vulnerabilities in the leadership, production, transportation, communications, finance, and distribution sectors of major international drug trafficking organizations. Strategic objectives include:
 - Identifying, prioritizing, and targeting the most significant international drug and chemical trafficking organizations;
 - Disrupting the networks, financial infrastructures, operations, and the resource bases of targeted international drug and chemical trafficking organizations; and,
 - Dismantling those international organizations that have a nexus to domestic organizations.

State and Local Assistance. DEA advises, assists, and trains state and local law enforcement and local community groups to ensure a consistent national approach to drug law enforcement. DEA's training enhances their enforcement capabilities and provides access to the latest intelligence and investigative methods. The strategic objectives are to:

- Reduce drug-related violent crime caused by drug traffickers in selected communities;
- Improve the capabilities of state and local enforcement efforts with specialized training programs;
- Facilitate the growth of community demand reduction programs by conducting local programs; and,
- Assist local efforts to control the production of cannabis and methamphetamine.

Reimbursable Programs. The primary reimbursements to DEA are for the Interagency Crime and Drug Enforcement Task Force program and the Department of Justice Assets Forfeiture Fund.

For 2005, $48.9 million is provided in support of: (1) DEA's plan for addressing the Nation's illegal drug threats by targeting PTOs, including the investigation of drug cartels' financial infrastructure; (2) vital infrastructure resources that are essential to sustaining DEA's existing operational capacity through technological enhancements for Concorde and the El Paso Intelligence Center; and (3) DEA's international counter-narcotics training in globally important strategic areas.

In 2005, a $25 million offset to DEA's base resources is proposed from the following: (1) Transferring the Drug and Chemical Diversion Control Program from the Salaries and Expenses Account to the Diversion Control Fee Account; (2) eliminating the Riverine Program support for interdiction and deterrence capability in Peru's waterways; and (3) charging the District of Columbia Metropolitan Police Department a fee for service for drug evidence analysis.

DEA continues to revise and integrate its Strategic Plan, Budget, and Performance Reporting. DEA's general long-term goal supports the Department of Justice's efforts to reduce illegal drug availability. DEA accomplishes its general long-term goal by disrupting or dismantling identified PTOs. The measures below reflect DEA's focus on PTOs and those PTOs linked to organizations on the Attorney General's CPOT list.

Public Law 102-395 established the Diversion Control Fee Account in 1993. Fees charged by the Drug Enforcement Administration under the Diversion Control Program are set at a level that ensures the recovery of the full costs of operating this program. The program's purpose is to prevent, detect, and investigate the diversion of controlled substances from legitimate channels, while ensuring an adequate and uninterrupted supply of controlled substances required to meet legitimate needs. Strategic objectives include:

- Identifying and targeting those responsible for the diversion of pharmaceutical controlled substances through traditional investigation and cyber crime initiatives to systematically disrupt and dismantle those entities involved in diversion schemes;
- Supporting the registrant population with improved technology, including E-commerce and customer support while maintaining cooperation, support and assistance from the regulated industry;
- Educating the public on the dangers of prescription drug abuse and taking proactive enforcement measures to combat emerging drug trends; and,
- Ensuring an adequate and uninterrupted supply of controlled substances to meet legitimate medical and scientific needs.

For 2005, DEA is requesting programmatic enhancements totaling $31.6 million under the Diversion Control Fee Account. These resources will be used to continue implementing DEA's efforts to prevent, detect, and investigate the diversion of controlled substances and precursor chemicals from legitimate channels, while at the same time, ensuring there is an adequate uninterrupted supply of controlled substances to meet legitimate needs. The enhancements requested for 2005 include the transfer of the Drug and Chemical Diversion Control Program from the Salaries and Expenses Account to the Diversion Control Fee Account.

The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives mission is to deter and investigate violations of law relating to alcohol, tobacco, firearms, explosives and arson. ATF stands in the front ranks of the nation's battle against terrorism. Explosives and firearms can be terrorist tools, and ATF is in the unique position of not only regulating commerce in firearms and explosives, but also of having the requisite expertise and authority to investigate firearms and explosives-related crimes. Through these programs, ATF investigators are positioned to thwart criminal and terrorist activity at every level of the execution process—from the theft or illegal purchase of explosives to the interdiction and neutralization of those explosives.

This appropriation will provide for the custody and care of an average daily population of 186,040 offenders and for the maintenance and operation of 116 penal institutions, 6 regional offices, and a central office located in Washington, D.C. The appropriation also finances the boarding of sentenced Federal prisoners in State and local jails and other facilities for short periods of time. An average daily population of 29,212 sentenced prisoners will be in contract facilities in 2005.

The FPS receives reimbursements for daily care and maintenance of State and local offenders, for utilities used by Federal Prison Industries, Inc., for staff housing, and for meals provided to FPS staff at institutions.

The FPS has restructured its FY 2005 budget in accordance with the President's Management Reform Agenda and the Government Performance and Results Act. The new structure incorporates the old Salaries and Expenses and the Buildings and Facilities budgets into one streamlined budget with two decision units, Inmate Confinement and Inmate Programs.

INMATE CONFINEMENT

This decision unit represents costs associated with Prison Capacity (New Construction, Modernization and Repair, Contract Confinement) and Operations (Institution Security and Administration, Maintenance, Unit Management, Food Service, Training, Medical and the National Institute of Corrections).

Prison Capacity

New Construction.—This activity represents costs associated with the acquisition, construction, and leasing of facilities in order to reduce crowding and provide a safe and humane environment for staff and inmates.

Modernization and repair of existing facilities.—This activity includes rehabilitation and renovation of buildings, necessary modifications to accommodate correctional programs, rehabilitation or replacement of utilities systems, infrastructure, and repair projects at existing facilities.

Contract Confinement.—This activity provides for the confinement of sentenced Federal offenders in Government-owned, contractor-operated facilities and contract, State and local facilities, and for the care of Federal prisoners in contract community residential centers.

Operations

Institution Security and Administration.—This budget activity covers costs associated with Institution Security, Institution Administration, Institution Maintenance, Institution Staff Training, and Unit Management. This activity finances institution maintenance, motor pool operations, powerhouse operations, institution security, and other administrative functions. In addition, it covers the cost of all food, medical supplies, clothing, welfare services, release clothing, transportation, gratuities, staff salaries (including salaries of Health Resources and Services Administration commissioned officers), and operational costs of functions directly related to providing inmate care. Finally, it covers all costs associated with regional and central office executive direction and management support functions such as research and evaluation, systems support, financial management, human resources management, inmate systems management, safety, and legal counsel.

National Institute of Corrections.—This activity provides assistance by the National Institute of Corrections to State and local corrections.

INMATE PROGRAMS

This decision unit represents costs associated with Reintegration Tools (Education and Vocational Training, Drug Treatment, Life Connections) and Services (Religious, Psychological).

Reintegration Tools

Education and Vocational Training.—Education programming provides inmates with an opportunity to learn the functional skills associated with a positive return to society.

Drug Treatment.—The FPS has developed a comprehensive drug abuse treatment consisting of five components: screening and assessment; drug abuse education, non-residential drug abuse counseling services, residential drug abuse programming, and community-transitional drug abuse treatment.

Life Connections.—The Life Connections Program is a multi faith-based, prison pre-release demonstration program to help federal inmates readjust successfully into law-abiding society, thereby reducing recidivism. This program consist of an intensive, multi-phase program to attempt to instill values and character through a curriculum of personal, social and moral development (e.g., education, parenting and family responsibilities, victim-offender mediation, etc.). Life connections pilot projects are located at FCI Petersburg, VA; FCI Milan, MI; USP Leavenworth, KS; FMC Carswell, TX; and FCI Victorville, CA.

Services

Religious.—Activity finances the costs of religious programs.

Psychological.—Activity finances the costs of psychological services.

For 2005, program increases are requested for the activation of U.S. Penitentiary Coleman, FL; for 4,500/5,000 low security contract beds and the United Financial Management System Project.

Federal Prison Industries, Inc., was created by Congress in 1934 and is a wholly-owned Government corporation. Its mission is to employ and train Federal inmates through a diversified program providing products and services to other Federal agencies. These operations are conducted in such a manner as to offer a minimum of competition to private industry and labor. Employment provides inmates with work, occupational knowledge and skills, plus money for personal expenses and family assistance.

The Corporation strives to provide additional industrial employment opportunities at existing and planned institutions.

Budget program.—Federal Prison Industries, Inc., operations are entirely self-sustaining, and no appropriations are required for its operations. The amounts used by the Corporation for administrative expenses are subject to a congressional limitation. Information regarding this limitation is provided separately following this account.

Financing program.—Revenues are derived entirely from the sale of products and services to other Federal agencies. Operating expenses are applied against these revenues, resulting in operating income or loss. Earnings surplus to the needs of the manufacturing operations, capital improvements and cash reserves are used to pay accident compensation.

Operating results.—To date, Federal Prison Industries, Inc., has returned to the Treasury a total of $82 million of retained income excess to the Corporation's needs. No contributions from budget authority have been made to offset deficits for non-revenue producing outlays since the inception of the fund.

The mission of the Office of Justice Programs (OJP) is to provide Federal leadership in developing the nation's capacity to prevent and control crime, administer justice, and assist crime victims. In FY 2005, OJP continues to support the President's Management Reform Agenda by streamlining its existing appropriation account structure and consolidating programs and administrative resources into a single decision unit entitled Justice Assistance. The Crime Victims' Fund remains a separate account due to the nature of its resources, which are not provided through appropriations but through the collection of fines and forfeitures.

Within Justice Assistance, OJP has grouped its programs into seven activities, which broadly reflect OJP's major mission critical functions. These activities, and the programs grouped within them, are as follows:

1. Counterterrorism Research and Development: Funds provide for the development of practical tools and approaches to improve the ability of state and local first responders to detect and effectively respond to terrorist acts. The 2005 President's Budget proposes a total of $7 million for this activity.

2. Improving the Criminal Justice System: Funds provide a wide range of assistance to States, localities and tribal governments with crime and drug control efforts. These programs and activities target resources to strengthen the capacity of the criminal justice systems at the local level and to promote community-based strategies to prevent and address crime. Funding supports several programs, including:

Regional Information Sharing System (RISS).—Funds State and local law enforcement agencies in the exchange of intelligence information and investigative services and equipment. At its inception, RISS supported state and local law enforcement efforts to combat drug trafficking and organized criminal activity. However, the regional information sharing concept has expanded, and now more law enforcement agencies routinely reach out to share intelligence across jurisdictional boundaries. Section 701 of the USA Patriot Act of 2001 authorizes RISS to operate secure information sharing systems to enhance the investigative and prosecutorial abilities of participating law enforcement agencies in addressing terrorism. The 2005 President's Budget proposes a $14.276 million increase over the 2004 Omnibus to expand RISS' accessibility to state and local public safety agencies for the purpose of sharing terrorism alerts and related information.

State and Local Antiterrorism Training Program.—Funds provide targeted training to state and local law enforcement addressing the investigation and prosecution of terrorist crimes. The 2005 President's Budget proposes a total of $10.654 million for this activity.

Justice Assistance Grant Program.—For statewide initiatives, technical assistance, training, and other support in the areas of law enforcement, prosecution and court programs, prevention programs, corrections programs and treatment programs. Local funding may also be combined with funding of other jurisdictions to form a regional project.

U.S.A. Freedom Corps.—This program supports efforts to build a national network of volunteers that use special councils to coordinate and develop community action plans, assess possible threats, and identify local resources. Specifically, in 2005 this program will support the continued activities of the Neighborhood Watch Program (NWP) and the Volunteers In Police Service (VIPS) program.

State and Local Gun Violence Assistance Program.—This program is part of the Administration's Project Safe Neighborhoods (PSN) Initiative. PSN is a comprehensive, strategic approach to the enforcement of firearm laws. The State and Local Gun Violence Assistance program requires each of the 94 United States Attorneys' Offices across the country to support, promote, and implement a comprehensive gun violence program within the local district, working in partnership with communities and state and local law enforcement agencies. These programs offer five core elements: partnerships, strategic planning, training, outreach, and accountability. The plan envisions an invigorated enforcement effort that either builds on successful programs or, through new resources and tools, creates effective gun violence reduction strategies.

Project Childsafe.—This initiative supports the Administration's efforts to purchase and distribute 65 million gunlocks to the American public by 2006 and is administered as part of the PSN Initiative.

Project Sentry.—This program provides assistance to communities for juvenile prosecution and supervision projects with the goal of lowering gun offenses and gun violence among youths. It is administered in coordination with the larger PSN Initiative mentioned above.

Southwest Border Prosecution Program.—This program provides funding for local prosecutor offices in the four States (California, Texas, Arizona and New Mexico) along the Southwest Border for the costs of processing, detaining, and prosecuting drug and other cases referred from federal arrests or federal investigations. It supports the enforcement of both federal and state laws by encouraging better coordination in both enforcement and prosecution of aliens and citizens involved in border criminal enterprises. The program also protects against foreign threats by supporting costs associated with targeting resources in a border area with significantly more vulnerability than many other areas in the continental United States.

3. Research and Demonstration, Evaluation and Statistics: Funds provide a wide range of research and statistical programs addressing criminal justice issues. These programs increase statistics on criminal justice issues and trends, evaluate the effectiveness of current approaches, and identify innovative solutions. Funding supports several programs, including:

Criminal Justice Statistical Programs.—Funds provide for the collection and analysis of statistical information concerning crime, victims, offenders, criminal justice processes, and civil disputes in support of public and private policy decisionmaking about society's response to crime; planning, coordination, implementation and provision of technical assistance to States to initiate innovative applications of communications and information systems technology for State and local criminal justice systems; and assurance of conformity with privacy and security regulations. The 2005 President's Budget proposes an increase to continue the automation of the National Crime Victimization Survey.

4. Technology for Crime Identification: Funds provide a wide range of technology-based assistance to States, localities and tribal governments to solve and reduce crime. Funding supports several programs, including:

DNA Enhancements.—$175.788 million is proposed for State and local crime laboratories to reduce and eventually eliminate backlogs of DNA casework samples (including crime scene and convicted offender samples). Effective backlog reduction requires both the direct defray of sample analysis costs to meet immediate needs, and improvements, especially automation upgrades, in forensic laboratories to increase their capacity, eventually enabling them to keep abreast of their DNA analysis without additional Federal funding. These efforts will help prosecute the guilty and exonerate the innocent. The amount requested for this effort reflects a nearly $81 million increase over the level of resources in the 2004 Omnibus.

5. Strengthening the Juvenile Justice System: Funds support State, local and tribal government activities to prevent juvenile delinquency and address juvenile crime through increased accountability. The 2005 President's Budget proposes funding for two demonstration programs that test, evaluate and disseminate best practices related to juvenile mentoring and the prevention of child prostitution.

6. Substance Abuse: Demand Reduction: Funds provided are intended to address the problems of substance abuse-related crime, including treatment of offenders with substance abuse problems to improve their ability to transition back into society. These programs include:

Drug Courts.—Funds provide assistance to States, local units of government, and to other public or private entities to develop and implement programs for non-violent offenders with substance abuse problems. These programs use the power of the courts and continuing supervision to coerce abstinence through graduated sanctions and the integrated administration of other services such as drug testing and drug treatment. The 2005 Budget proposes a $30.949 million increase in overall programming. Of this amount, $6.2 million is requested to restore base program funding that was eliminated in the 2004 Omnibus. In addition, $24.749 million is proposed to provide more technical assistance and to ensure existing courts have the resources to provide the full continuum of services that have been proven effective.

Residential Substance Abuse Treatment.—The 2005 President's Budget proposes to fully restore this drug treatment program, which was eliminated in the 2004 Omnibus.

7. Services for Victims of Crime: Funds provide resources to State and local governments to ensure timely delivery of direct payments and services to victims of crime.

Public Safety Officers Benefits—Educational Assistance.—An increase of $3.5 million is requested to keep pace with the increasing numbers of dependents of public safety officers, either killed or permanently disabled in the line of duty, who are seeking educational assistance.

The planned distribution of budget authority by fiscal year is as follows (in millions of dollars); 2005 amounts are presented by decision unit:

The Office on Violence Against Women (OVW), is a component of the U.S. Department of Justice. Created in 1995, OVW implements the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA) and subsequent legislation and provides national leadership against domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking. Since its inception, the Office has launched a multifaceted approach to responding to these crimes. By forging state, local and tribal partnerships among police, prosecutors, the judiciary, victim advocates, health care providers, faith leaders, and others, OVW grants help provide victims with the protection and services they need to pursue safe and healthy lives and enable communities to hold offenders accountable. In 2005, OVW is established as an office administratively separate from the Office of Justice Programs.
