

Panama

The Screwworm Research Unit provides research to help prevent the re-infestation of screwworm into the US and Central America. This eradication program has resulted in hundreds of millions of dollars in real savings to US livestock producers.

