

November 20, 2006

Rachel -----

Thank you for the notice of the planned changes to the use of the Energy Star logo on Dry-Type transformers.

I am concerned with the planned changes. At this time we have a marketing campaign to explain the need for the Energy Star transformers to our customers and this change will cause problems.

We do not have any simple way to describe the new transformers without the Energy Star logo.

The new transformers must meet the NEMA TP-1 requirements, but the average customer does not understand how TP-1 relates to the Energy Star requirements, so calling them TP-1 does not help ms.

Please pass my concerns on to the committee.

Thanks -----

Eric Jaeger
Product Manager
Jefferson Electric