

Small Business Profile: CONNECTICUT

Small businesses make a significant contribution to the U.S. economy, and in 2003, they were the engine of Connecticut's economic performance. Nationally, half of U.S. non-farm private output and employment is generated by small firms with 500 or fewer employees; in Connecticut, small business owners—including women, minorities, and home based individuals—were leaders in the state's economy in 2003. The Office of Advocacy's Small Business Profile reports on small businesses in the state using the most currently available data.

Number of Businesses. The estimated total number of small businesses in Connecticut in 2003 was 314,100.¹ Of the 95,969 employer firms in 2003, 97.3 percent or an estimated 93,400 were small firms. The estimated number of employer businesses decreased by 0.7 percent in 2003. The most recent data available show that non-employer businesses numbered 220,751 in 2001. Self-employment decreased by 7.5 percent, from 125,791 in 2002 to 116,366 in 2003. (Source: U.S. Dept. of Labor, Employment and Training Administration; U.S. Dept. of Commerce, Census Bureau; U.S. Dept. of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics.)

Women-Owned Businesses. Self-employment by women increased by 1.9 percent, from 42,951 in 2002 to 43,749 in 2003 and represented 37.6 percent of self-employed persons in the state. Women-owned businesses generated $9.3 billion in revenues, employed 78,598 workers, and constituted 72,400 firms or 25.5 percent of all firms in 1997. (Sources: U.S. Dept. of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics; U.S. Dept. of Commerce, Census Bureau.)

Minority-Owned Businesses. In 1997, 21.6 percent or 4,400 of the minority-owned businesses in the state were employer firms, and they generated 80.2 percent of the total minority-owned business revenue of $4.6 billion. There were 6,600 Hispanic-owned businesses; 7,300 Black-owned businesses; 5,900 Asian and Pacific Islander-owned businesses; and 1,300 American Indian and Alaskan Native-owned businesses in 1997. (Source: U.S. Dept. of Commerce, Census Bureau.)

Business Turnover. The estimated number of new employer businesses was 8,501 in 2003, which is 2.6 percent less than the previous year. Business bankruptcies increased by 3.3 percent, and totaled 187 in 2003. Business terminations decreased by 3 percent and numbered 11,044 in 2003. (Source: U.S. Dept. of Labor, Employment and Training Administration; Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts; U.S. Dept. of Commerce, Census Bureau.)

Employment. Small businesses with fewer than 500 employees numbered 75,754 in 2001 and employed 779,710 people or 50.1 percent of the state's non-farm private workforce (Table 1).² Total net employment gain in the state amounted to 9,894 between 2000 and 2001. Of that number, 9,675 are attributable to MSAs (metropolitan statistical areas). During the same time period, firms with fewer than 20 employees gained 9,364 jobs. (Source: U.S. Dept. of Commerce, Census Bureau, Statistics of U.S. Businesses. Note: Urban (MSA) and rural (non-MSA) employment data is available at: www.sba.gov/advo/stats/data.html.)

Small Business Income. Small business proprietors' income in 2003 increased by 5.1 percent, from $14.7 billion in 2002 to $15.5 billion in 2003. (Source: U.S. Dept. of Commerce.)

Finance. Small firms typically use commercial bank lenders and rely on local bank services. Over the last five years there has been a gradual decline in the number of banks in Connecticut (Table 3). The Office of Advocacy has identified banks in each state that make the most loans to small businesses. This information is available in its banking studies available at www.sba.gov/advo/stats.

² The number of employers listed in Table 1 is not directly comparable to the figures listed in the Number of Businesses section due to different data sources.
